Y. M. C. A. WORKERS CONCLUDE SESSION

Inter-State Convention of Carolinas Elect Officers and Adopt Plans

AFFAIRS AT STATE CAPITAL

Hearing on Invalidating Railroad Charters—Needs of State Normal—Charters Issued—Sikes Bill for Road Building.

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 28.—H. E. Ravenel, of Spartanburg, S. C., was elected president of the inter-State Y. M. C. A. here today. Other officers, F. C. Abbott, Charlotte; R. L. Manning, Sumter, S. C.; T. S. Bryan, Columbia, S. C.; vice president, J. A. Speer, of Hartsville, N. C.; was chosen secretary. The convention decided to raise $9,500 for the convention work next year. Subscriptions taken in convention amounted to $1,208.

This was a day of steady work for the convention, the third day of the convention. During the morning session there was an address by S. A. Ackley, of Richmond, portraying the effectiveness of a "Progressive State Work Policy." There was another address during the morning session by H. O. Williams, of New York, on "Co-operative Work Among Associations," this co-operation extending to work with the churches in every way possible. The morning session closed with an address by C. C. Robinson, of Charlotte, on "The Association's Opportunity With Boys."

This aftersoon there was an address by H. F. Bretthauser, of Charlotte, on "The Association and Clean Sports." The delegates were given a ride over the city later in the afternoon and tonight there was the banquet for the convention delegates at which the special speakers were Hon. H. B. F. MacFarland, of Washington, and Chas. R. Drum, of New York.

During the banquet tonight to the delegates to the convention announcement was made by G. C. Huntington, general secretary, that a campaign committee will be in Raleigh February 15th to inaugurate a campaign for an association building. He is already greatly encouraged over voluntary pledges received that aggregate $6,000 and that the Y. M. C. A. for Raleigh is assured.

The House Committee on Corporations has just given a hearing on the bill of Representative J. Frank Ray, of Macon county, amending the charter of the Carolina and Tenessee Southern Railway by revoking all the rights and powers conferred upon the said company if it fails to begin the construction of the line of railway from Franklin, Macon county, within six months from the date of the ratification of the act and have the road completed and in operation by the 29th of August, 1912, prosecuting in good faitn the said work continuously until completion. The committee voted to report the bill faborably. Mr. H. W. Miller, assistant to the president of the Southern Railway, appeared in opposition to the bill, insisting that the work had not been suspended for the purpose of choking up the only natural pass through the mountains to the Tennessee line, but on account of the deplorable condition of the money market, the railroad people having been unable to float the bonds necessary for carrying on the tremendous extension work in which they are engaged.

Judiciary Committee No. 1 of the House has decided to report unfavorably Representative Ray's bill increasing the salary of the law clerk to the attorney general and changing his official title to assistant attorney general.

The Assembly has received from the State Normal and Industrial College at Greensboro a statement of its needs with reference to the development of the institution. Permanent needed improvements and the cost of the completion of the McIver building, $60,000; enlargement of the library $15,000; a gymnasium $40,000; double the present dormitory capacity $20,000; an auditorium $56,000; music building $20,000; one additional recitation building $130,000. The directors say the institution has never been able to keep pace with the demands made upon it by the people of the State and they appeal to the Legislature to deal as liberally as possible with the college.

Charters were issued for the I. W. West Drug Co., Mt. Airy, capital $10,000 by I. W. West and others. The Crawford Kennedy Co., Statesville, capital $50,000 by C. P. Crawford and others for mercantile business. The New South Realty Co., Durham, capital $10,000 by J. H. Hurst and others.

The Sikes bill to encourage road building in North Carolina now pending before the Roads Committee of the Senate is quite a notable measure in that it provides for the State to issue $200,000 of bonds every six months for a series of years and to loan the proceeds to the counties applying at 5 per cent. interest, the bonds to bear 4 per cent. interest for forty-one years. The plan is so worked out as to retire themselves automatically and at he same time the counties borrowing the money get a large saving over the usual cost of county and townsip road bonds, saving, in fact, something like $35,000 of the $100,000 of bonds involved. The bill was prepared and worked out by W. S. Wilson, corporation clerk in the Department of State.

COL. EDWARD RUSSELL DEAD

Library of Congress

Vice President of Mobile & Ohio Railroad Died After Acute Illness in Washington—Noted Southerner.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Colonel Edward LaFayette Russell, vice president of the Mobile & Ohio Railroad, died here at 7:10 o'clock tonight at the Raleigh hotel, aged 65 years. Pneumonia was the direct cause of death.

Present at his bedside when the end came were his daughter, Miss Eoline Russell, R. V. Taylor, general manager of the Mobile & Ohio; Dr. Rhettgoode, of Mobile, his family physician, and Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. Russell's sister. They had just arrived in Washington this evening having come from Mobile on a special train which left there yesterday. No arrangemests as to when the body will leave here have been made.

Colonel Russell arrived in Washington Thursday morning suffering from a severe cold which he contracted in New York the early part of the week. As his condition grew worse, physicians were called and Thursday evening pneumonia developed. On account of his advanced age it was thought by the physicians that his chances for recovery were slight. This morning he was reported to be some better, but late this afternoon a change for the worse was noted.

Colonel Rusell was born in Franklin county, Alabama, August 19, 1845. He was educated by his father, Geo. Daniel Russell, and worked with him on the farm until February 1862. When the Civil war broke out he joined the 41st Mississippi regiment C. S. A., and served as a private and acted as color-bearer of the regiment. When the Confederate lines were broken at Nashville he retreated to Franklin and swam Harpers Creek during the night to save his colors. After the war Colonel Rusell engaged in cotton growing. He was admitted to the bar in 1871 and practiced law at Verona, Miss., for a year. In 1876 he became general counsel for the Mobile & Ohio and acted as such and also vice president until he died.

MRS. SCHENK RELEASED.

Served With Papers in Divorce Action at Wheeling, W. Va.

Wheeling, W. Va., Jan. 28.—Mrs. Laura Farnsworth Schenk, wife of John O. Schenk, was charged with attempting to poison her husband, was released on her own cognizance by Judge Jordan, in the criminal court today, the bail being left at $10,000.

A few minutes before she had been served with papers in a divorce action filed by her husband in which it was stated that application would be made February 4th for an injunction to restrain her from communicating with or harrassing her husband or from interfering in any way with her children, Virginia and Robert Schenk, or from entering their house on the island. A counter suit for divorce is being prepared by Mrs. Schenk's counsel and the paper, it is said, will be served early next week. Since John O. Schenk neglected to announce that he would not be responsible for the debts contracted by his wife and it is held that he will be called upon to pay the costs of the late trial, about $100,000.

COMPULSORY VACCINATION.

Durham Joins the Ranks to Stamp Out Disease.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Durham, N. C., Jan. 28.—At a joint session of the county commissioners and the city board of health late yesterday afternoon action was taken to compel every citizen to be vaccinated by Wednesday, February 1st. A fine of $5 for every day after that date will be imposed upon every one who fails to comply with the ordinance. A very large number of citizens are indignant at this action and a mass meeting has been called for Monday night at the Court House to take steps to oppose the measure. It is learned that the best lawyers in Durham will be employed to oppose the act.

News reached the city today that Roxboro and Person county had been quarantined against Durham on account of smallpox.

MR. W. J. McDIARMID PASSES.

Fayetteville Citizen Died Suddenly in Philadelphia.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Fayetteville, N. C., Jan. 28.—A telegram received here this afternoon announcing the death in Philadelphia today of Mr. W. J. McDiarmid, a prominent lumber dealer and leading business man, of this city. He was in Philadelphia on business, and yesterday having been taken suddenly ill and unconscious, was carried to the Presbyterian Hospital, where he died. Mr. McDiarmid, who was about 60 years old, is survived by his wife, and one brother, Mr. Archibald McDiarmid.

Valdosta, Ga., January 28.—With one burglar armed with a shot gun holding the town's guardians at bay, several robbers looted Lake Park, this county, early today, and escaped, after a gun battle with the officers. No one was hurt.

ADVISORS OF KING BRING LIBEL SUIT

Effort to Stop Rumors That Ruler Was Married to Admiral's Daughter

NEWSPAPER MAN DEFENDANT

Alleged He Was Morganatically Wedded While He Was Prince of Wales—Action in High Courts in London.

London, Jan. 29.—The News of the World says that King George's advisers have instituted criminal libel proceedings with the object of ending once for all rumors which have been freely circulated for years that his majesty, when Prince of Wales, was Morganatically married to a daughter of an admiral of Malta.

The defendant in the case is Edward F. Mylius, who is said to be connected with the paper The Liberator, published in Paris, which printed the statements on which the libel charge is based. Mylius was arrested some weeks ago charged at Bow street, committed for trial and sent to jail. Subsequently on his own application to the vacation judge bail was fixed in the amount of $100,000.

In the ordinary course the case will be tried in the central criminal court, but on application of the crown it will be brought up in the high courts on Wednesday next before Lord Chief Justice Alverstone and a special jury.

According to a statement in the Liberator the defendant intends to file a plea of justification and also to subpoena the king as a witness. The constitutional law, however, makes it impossible for his majesty to give evidence in his own courts, notwithstanding he may be anxious to do so.

Practically all of the London morning papers publish stories on the intention of the King's advisers to carry the case to the courts on the charge of criminal libel. It is noteworthy that the Morning Post referring to the arrest of Mylius on December 26th in a recent article, said that he was charged with being concerned in the publication of seditious statements, but the paper made no reference to the alleged morganatic marriage, merely saying that the alleged seditious statements referred, among other things to the policy followed by this country in Egypt and India.

The Post also published a long article on the constitutional law in such an unusual case, saying that the police arrested Mylius during a legal vacation and had abstained from charging him in a police court, according to the usual procedure. Application was made to the vacation judge in chambers who issued a writ of habeas corpus and then committed him to custody, fixing bail at $100,000, which the prisoner was unable to find. The result of this action of the police was that Mylius was legally committed without publicity and until recently the London papers have made but brief reference to the case.

It is understood that the proceedings in the King's libel suit are taken under a statute 200 years old.

ALARMED AT EMIGRATION.

Estimated That Nearly 200,000 People Come From Spain Annually.

Madrid, Jan. 28.—Spain is alarmed over the extent of emigration. It is estimated that nearly 200,000 persons leave this country annually for new homes in North and South America. It is proposed to begin large public works in order to give employment to those who might otherwise seek work in foreign places.

Senor Gasset, the new minister of Agriculture and Public Works, has told King Alfonso that Spanish emigration is due chiefly to the restriction in agriculture resulting from a lack of irrigation and the means of ready communication in certain country districts. This has resulted in poverty aggravated by an increased cost of living.

GALE STRUCK NEW YORK.

Played Havoc With Shipping in Harbor Yesterday.

New York, Jan. 28.—A fifty-mile gale from the northwest and a strong ebb tide conjoined played the mischief with shipping in the harbor today. The steamship Roma from Naples, was driven aground as she was trying to make her pier in Brooklyn and it took three wrecking tugs several hours to work her free. A ferryboat and a lighter collided in the East river. All in-bound liners were nearly unmanageable and only made their berths with the aid of many tugs. The home bound fishing fleet was blown out to sea again when it attempted to beat through the narrows.

New York, Jan. 28.—Frank J. Marshal, the United States chess champion, defeated Charles Jaffet today in the seventh round of the masters tournament here. Marshal is now the only undefeated player, although he has been forced to concede two draws.

HEIRESS IS STILL MISSING

Father of Miss Dorothy Arnold Believes She Is Dead—False Clues and Abusive Letters Received Yesterday.

New York, Jan. 28.—False clues, will O' the 'wisp tips and abusive letters were all the comfort the Arnold family got today in their search for Dorothy, the missing daughter. The detective bureau heard that Miss Arnold had been in the habit of calling at the general delivery window of the postoffice for foreign letters, and that on the day of her disappearance she received such a letter. The family didn't believe it. Francis R. Arnold, the father, is still convinced that his daughter is dead, has aphasia or is held for ransom by criminals.

John W. Arnold, a brother, arrived from Europe today. He knew nothing, but the bare fact that his sister was missing. It came out through counsel for the family this afternoon that Mrs. Arnold has broken down under the strain and is kept in seclusion with the friends out of town.

Circulars reproducing three of Miss Arnold's latest photographs and giving a minutely detailed description of here appearance were mailed today to every chief of police, town marshal and detective agency in the United States and Canada, with the offer of a reward of $1,000 for information leading to her discovery.

DEAD IN BEER SALOON.

Well-to-Do Farmer Found in Durham County With Throat Cut.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Durham, N. C., Jan. 28.—News reached this city today that Mr. Joe Roycroft, a well-to-do farmer who resided near Wilkins, was found dead about 2 o'clock in a near-beer saloon about a quarter of a mile from Benehan, N. C. When found his juglar vein was cut and his body was stiff, indicating that the murder was committed early in the night. G. G. Dove is being held on suspicion until the coroner's jury renders a verdict. Details in regard to Mr. Roycroft's death have been difficult to secure, but it was stated that he had gone to the saloon with three other men and that all were drinking. He was 45 years old and is survived by a wife and seven children.

Durham, N. C., Jan. 28.—G. H. Dove, aprominent lumberman, was held without bail after a hearing this evening on the charge of murdering his neighbor, Roycroft, a farmer of Granville county, last night. The body of Roycroft was found this morning. Dove admits they had engaged in a fight last night, but disclaims any knowledge of how Roycroft met his death.

PROBES VOTE TRAFFICKING.

Believed That No Further Results Can be Expected.

Danville, Ill., Jan. 28.—According to semi-official announcement tonight, the work to be taken up Monday by the Vermilion county grand jury will be the last of the vote trafficking industry that remains within its jurisdiction.

Unless the examination of witnesses still to be heard results in a general break down of enough persons to open a wide general industry even the court officials believe that no further definite results can be expected. Witnesses summoned for Monday include several called upon to tell of the riots in Grape Creek, at the recent county option election, and several from the soldiers' home, who are expected to tell of alleged mismarking of the ballots of blind or enfeebled soldiers by election officials.

ASHEVILLE WOMAN INJURED.

In Train Wreck on Cotton Belt Road, in Arkansas.

Brinkley, Ark., January 28.—Five persons were injured, two Pullman sleeping cars were reduced to wreckage, and traffic on the Cotton Belt Railroad was interrupted for several hours, as a result of the derailment of passenger train No. 4, southbound, near Brinkley, today. Spreading rails was responsible for the wreck.

Among the injured was Mrs. T. B. Ballard, of Asheville, N. C., bruised about the head.

GUARD ON BORDER TO BE INCREASED

To Prevent Organizing Revolutionary Expeditions In the United States

CAUSED BY MEXICAN REVOLT

Orders Came Direct From President Taft—More Customs Officers Appointed—Fighting Still in Progress.

Washington, January 28.—Determined that the territory of the United States shall not be used as a base of revolutionary expeditions against Mexico, the Washington Government today took steps to increase materially the American military and customs forces guarding the frontier.

The Secretary of War today issued orders more than trebling the soldiers guarding the border line, and the Secretary of the Treasury authorized the collector of customs at El Paso, Texas, to appoint ten additional deputy collectors of customs in order to establish a more effective survey of smugglers. It is understood that these orders were issued by direction of the President, upon representations from the Mexican embassy that the neutrality of the United States was being violated.

The army officers have been instructed to co-operate with the marshals of the Department of Justice, and the customs officials of the Treasury Department stationed along the border.

Are Still Fighting.

Parral, Mex., Friday, January 27, via El Paos, Tex., January 28.—Official advices given out here by the Jefe Politico declare that Federals under Major Dominuez met a rebel band at Nonoava, near Cerro Prieta, Chihuahua, and that fifteen rebels and two Federals were killed. Officials claim that the rebels, 200 in number, fled, while the federals, numbering 125, held the field. The same source reports a fight Thursday at Paquirichic, with a rebel force, with a loss of three men killed and several horses, while no loss is mentioned on the Federal side.

Colonel Arseamendi commanded the federals.

Rivas New Stronghold.

Mexico City, Jan. 28.—San Juan Evangelista, terminal of a branch of the Tehuantepec railway and San Juan Jalampan, near Coatzacoalcos, are reported in dispatches from Verz Cruz to have been occupied by revolutionists, under the command of Dr. Enrique Silmenares Rivas, president of a political club in Atoyac, State of Vera Cruz.

Rivas is said to have been at he head of former rebellions in Guatemala and to have passed several years in Cuba.

The town of Sayula, on the west border of Chiapas, which was in the hands of the rebels, is reported to have been evacuated upon the approach of a Federal force.

In chihuahua General Navarro is said to have marched into San Tomas, which was thought to be a stronghold of the rebels, without meeting any resistance.

On account of murder and savagery of which an American Mormon family and a young Canadian(were victims, reached here today in a private letter from Dublan, near Casas Grandes. Four bandits attacked and robbed the home of James Mortensen and brutally mistreated Mrs. Mortensen and a 13-year-old daughter.

Subseqeuntly the latter was shot and killed while preparing a meal at the command of the robbers. An American by the name of Madison, escaped and in reply to his appeal Marius Cox, a native of Canada, atempted to assist the Mortensens, but fell dead under the fire of the bandits.

McCURDY FAILED AGAIN.

High Wind and Rough Sea Caused Him to Postpone Flight.

Key West, Fla., Jan. 28.—Aviator J. A. D. McCurdy today was again forced to postpone his flight from here to Havana. High winds and a rough sea in which he feared his pontoons would be insufficient to save him if he fell, were given as the causes.

McCurdy tonight decided he would make an effort to fly tomorrow morning, if the weather conditions permitted. The barometer late tonight, however, did not indicate that there would be much change in the wind.

McCurdy's brother and two torpedo boats are stationed at Havana to keep the aviator posted on weather changes on that side of the channel.

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 28.—At the annual meeting here today of the Virginian Railway Company, the following directors were re-elected: Urban H. Broughton, Franklin Q. Brown, Godfrey H. Hyatt, Henry H. SAILORS SLEW THE CAPTAIN

Mutineers Ran Amuck on Dredge at Fairmont, Maryland—Crushed Skull of First Mate—Fierce Fight Ensued.

Colonial Beach, Va., Jan. 28.—Mutinous sailors of the Dredge Irene Ruth, of Fairmont, Md., today ran amuck aboard that vessel, murdered Captain Allen Dorsey and crushed the skull of first mate, John Adams. One sailor escaped the mutineers by jumping overboard and swimming ashore.

The dredge was operating in the Potomac river near this place. Feeling had existed between several members of the crew and the officers and it took a serious turn today when sailors H. Brady, George Wallach and H. Norchley attacked Captain Dorsey. A arrangements when the body will killed and his mate was probably fatally injured by his skull being crushed.

After the fight the mutineers moved the dredge into shallow water and made their escape. The sailor, who escaped the mutineers, carried the news to this place and a posse started in pursuit.

Up to dark tonight no trace of the murderers has been found.

MRS. HAMMERSTEIN'S SUIT.

Asks Absolute Divorce From Husband in New York.

New York, Jan. 28.—Proceedings for absolute divorce from her husband, Oscar Hammerstein, the operatic impresario, were begun today by Mrs. Mavina Hammerstein, in the Supreme Court of Nyack, N. Y.

Mr. Hammerstein sold out his operatic interests in New York to the Metropolitan Operatic House last year. He retains numerous theatrical interests here, however, and has been planning to build and conduct a house for the production of grand opera in London, England. He is at present giving his personal attention to his enterprises here.

RIOTING IN ECUADOR.

Caused by Proposed Lease of Islands to United States.

Guayaquil, Ecuador, Jan. 28.—The anti government rioting in protest against the projected lease of the Galapagos islands to the United States, was renewed last night. A mob stoned the residence of President-elect Estrada and the offices of El Tiempo, the government organ.

The government prevents the crowds from approaching the government palace but it was necessary to call the mounted forces. The latter charged and dispersed the rioters. At midnight the city was quiet again.

MURDER NEAR CONCORD.

Prominent Farmer Shot to Death in Road This Morning.

Concord, N. C., January 29.—Sydney Barrier, a prominent and well connected farmer, was found at 12:30 this morning in the public road a mile from town with a bullet wound in his heart, by neighbors, who were on their way home. Barrier was breathing when discovered, but died without regaining consciousness, and the auth- weapon was found and there was no suspicion of suicide. Barrier was 24 years old and was married last October.

Houston, Tex., January 28.—Roland B. Garros was lost in the clouds for ten minutes today. He was trying for an altitude record and explained after alighting that he darted about in space about 4,000 feet in the air. "I was lost," Garros declared. "When the earth did come within view I did not know my direction, and the country for miles around seemed nothing but level plains."

Havanna, Jan. 28.—The second anniversary of the establishment of the second republic was celebrated by a review of Camp Columbia this afternoon and a bill this evening at the palace. After the review James Ward gave the first successful exhibition of aviation ever seen in Cuba. Three short flights only were possible on account of the high wind.

Washington, Jan. 28.—An investigation to determine what happened to Ballinger-Pinchot committee's special report which Representative Hitchcock, of Nebraska, had declared had been accountably lost in its transmission from the House to the Committee on Agriculture, was begun today by the House Committee on Rules.

New York, Jan. 28.—There will be no more standing room in New York theatres. Theatrical managers were notified by Fire Commissioner Waldo today that the prevalent practice of allowing patrons to stand in the passageways back of the seats is as much a violation of the law as the prohibited standing in aisles.

Washington, Jan. 28.—The gunboat Wheeling arrived in Guantanamo, Cuba, today. This advice came to the Navy Department by wireless, setting at rest the fears for the little vessel's safety. No accident marred the voyage to West Indian waters and all on board the vessel are well.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Population statistics for 1910 for the 13th census, announced today, included Hendersonville, N. C., 2,818, against 1,917 in 1900.

LEGISLATIVE MILL STILL GRINDING

Several Measures of State Importance Were Introduced Yesterday

JACKSON TRAINING SCHOOL

Appropriation for Maintenance and Permanent Improvements—Amend Divorce Laws.—Other Proceedings.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 28.—A bill carrying $20,000 annual appropriation for maintenance and $19,000 annually for permanent improvements, for the Stonewall Jackson Manual Training and Industrial School at Concord, was introduced today by Senator Hartsell and went to the Committee on Appropriations.

A bill by Senator Gardner would change the name of the North Carolina A. & M. College for negroes at Greensboro to North Carolina Industrial Institute so as to prevent confusion of names with the A. & M. College at Raleigh.

Senator Bellamy, of Brunswick, was allowed to withdraw his bill prohibiting notaries public from serving as justices of the peace in Brunswick and New Hanover counties.

The House today added two additional standing committees, one on Congressional Apportionments and one on Legislative Apportionments, the appointments by Speaker Dowd to be made later.

A bill introduced by Roberts, of Buncombe, amends the divorce laws so that where the husband and wife live separate ten years and there are no children, there can be divorce whether both have resided for ten years in this State or not.

Connor offered a bill to provide the Torrens Land Title System for North Carolina.

A bill for a million dollars bond for a fireproof State administration building was put on its reading, but was finally referred to the Committee on Appropriations under the rules; having only been passed upon thus far by the Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds.

Including today 107 bills have been ratified by the present General Assembly as against 58 for the same number of days of the session two years ago, while a number of bills of State-wide application are included among these ratified during this session. The great mass, however, are local acts. This showing demonstrates that the policy with which this General Assembly started out to get rid of local legislation is being carried out so as to give the remaining days of the session to more important State legislation.

Senate—25th Day.

President Pro Tem. Pharr convened the Senate at 11 o'clock, Rev. L. F. Johnson, of the Christian church, making the invocation.

Petitions Offered.

Reinhardt, of Lincoln: From citizens of Macon and Catawba counties regarding the drainage of certain lands along Potts' creek.

Baggett, of Harnett: From citizens of Newton Grove, Sampson county, against the sale of near beer.

New Bill Introduced.

Hobgood, of Guilford: Appoint two justices of the peace in Guilford.

Gardner, of Cleveland: Incorporate Westminster school in Rutherford county; also change the name of the North Carolina A. & M. College for the colored race at Greensboro to the North Carolina Industrial Institute. (Senator Gardner explained that this was for the purpose of preventing a confusion with the name of the North Carolina A. & M. at Raleigh.)

Hartsell, of Cabarrus: Provide for the maintenance of the Stonewall Jackson Manual Training and Industrial School by appropriating annually $20,000 and for permanent improvements $19,000 annually.

Coxe, of Jackson: Increase the pay of the commissioners of Jackson.

McDonald, of Moore: Relative to sidewalk paving in Sanford.

Cotten, of Pitt: Authorize bond issue for improving public roads of Greenville township, Pitt county.

Committee Reports on Message.

Favorable reports on 16 bills were made by committees and an unfavorable report on the bill for the protection of employes as members of labor organizations.

A message was received from the House transmitting 27 bills and resolutions and they were appropriately referred. The House failed to concur in the Senate amendment to the hunting law for Alamance county and Representative Coxe, of Anson, and Long were appointed as members of a conference committee on the part of the House. Senators Barnes, Hartsell and Graham were appointed on the part of the Senate.

Bills Ratified.

Allow Charlotte Park and Tree Company to sell certain real estate. Protect game in Warren. For relief of the commissioners of Montgomery. Change the pay of jurors of Caswell. Authorize the commissioners of Brunswick to issue bonds. Ratify the incorporation of the Lenoir and Blowing Rock Turnpike Company. Protect game in Montgomery. Allow ex-sheriffs and tax collectors of Iredell to collect arrears of taxes. Conserve the cattle supply of Lincoln and Catawba counties. Relative to laying out and working the public roads of Guilford. Amend charter of Plymouth. In reference to hunting in Yadkin. Amend game law of Bertie. Preserve records of Wayne. Amend road law of Bertie. Provide half pay for witnesses and officers of Macon when no true bill is found. Relative to primary elections at Mooresville. Authorize commissioners of Henderson to build a bridge across the French Broad river. Prohibit dumping sawdust in the streams of Montgomery.

Passed Second Reading.

Authorize Concord to issue bonds. Allow commissioners of Caswell to levy a special tax.

Passed and Sent to House.

Limit the liability of surety companies. Establish recorder's court at Burlington. (Amended by the committee.) Incorporate the Sunset Park Railway Company. Authorize the trustees of Warsaw High School to issue bonds for building a brick school house for whites. Require the regulation of publication of receipts and disbursements of public moneys. (Amended by the committee and also by Senator Bassett.) Prohibit throwing sawdust in the streams of Yadkin county. (Senator Bassett served notice that in the future he would oppose all such measures as there should be a general State law covering it. Senator Hicks will introduce a bill of thtis kind nex week.) For he relief of ex-sheriffs and tax collectors. For the relief of ex-Sheriff J. M. Davis, of Surry.

Passed and Enrolled.

Provide for grading and building public road in Swain to Nathalie station. Validate the election of justices of the peace in Alleghany. Establish special criminal court at Washington. N. C. (Afterwards ratified at the request of Senator Martin, of Washington.) Authorize the commissioners of Henderson to issue bonds to pay indebtedness. Allow special tax levy in Brunswick county. Amend the charter of Wilson. Make owners of dogs liable for damages in certain coses. Validate the probate and registration of deeds and other conveyances. Prevent depredations by domestic fowls in Catawba and Guilford counties. Appoint cotton weigher for Middlesex, Nash. Resolution inviting Hon. H. S. Graves to address the General Assembly Friday night, February 3rd.

The Senate voted to allow the use of the Senate chamber by the State Board of Health next Tuesday night.

Senator Bellamy, of Brunswick, was allowed to withdraw from the committee and the Senate the bill prohibiting notaries public from serving as justices of the peace in New Hanover and Brunswick counties.

Senator Sikes, of Wake, was added to the sub-committee on public roads.

In reporting the action of the Senate in killing the bill taxing dogs the name of Senator Pharr, of Mecklenburg, was grouped with a number of others as opposing the measure, when as a matter of fact he voted against tabling it. During the debate he offered an amendment exempting dogs already taxed by cities and towns.

The Senate at 1 o'clock adjourned to meet at 12 o'clock Monday.

House—25th Day.

Speaker Dowd convened the House at 10 o'clock, the prayer being offered by Representative J. C. Woodson, of Cleveland.

A petition came from citizens of Saluda through Representative Livingston that all of the town of Saluda be placed in Polk county, the county lines being changed for this purpose.

Reports of Committees.

There came from Judiciary Committee No. 1, with unfavorable report the Ray bill to increase the salary of the law clerk to the attorney general to $2,000 and make him assistant attorney general. A minority report was filed by Ray and the bill saved to the calendar thereby. Other unfavorable reports yere: Correct an error in the Cleveland county officer's compensation law of 1909.

Notable bills reported favorably were: Allow Shelby to establish light and power plant; Regulate land surveying; Establish recorder's court for Henderson.

A recommendation by the Rules Committee for the creation of committees on Congressional Apportionment and a committee on Legislative Apportionment, were adopted.

Bills to amend the charter of the Carolina & Tennessee Railroad Co., so as to annul its charter unless an important link of railroad is commenced and completed within specified time, came from the Committee on Corporations with favorable report. Also a bill to allow Durham to issue bonds, for floating debt.

New Bills Introduced.

Battle: Establish a graded school in Special District No. 2, Wake county.

Dougton: Divide the commissioners of Alleghany into two classes.

Johnson: Amend the Revisal as to Dutch nets in Albemarle Sound and its tributaries.

Williams, of Swain: Improve roads of Swain.

Long: Create a recorder's court for Alamance county.

Long: Amend the Revisal relating to bigamy.

Andrews: Amend the charter of Bladenboro, Bladen county.

Connor: Provide for the settlement of title to real estate in North Carolina by establishing the Torrens System.

Nunn: Appoint justices of the peace in Craven county.

Wood, of Transylvania: For stock law in Transylvania county.

Wood, of Transylvania: Repeal the dog law in Transylvania.

Houston: Allow special venires in Union compensation for their services.

Livington: Change county lines so that all of the town of Saluda will be in Polk county.

Tucker, of Ashe: Prohibit fishing in streams in Ashe county that are stocked with fish from the United States fisheries.

Roberts: Amend the divorce laws so as to allow divorce of husband and wife after ten years separate residence where there are no children born to them, although both may not have resided all that time in this State.

McWilliams: Confer certain powers on the Board of Education on Mattamuskeet Lake Bottom Co.

Rose: Amend the law of 1909 and issue bonds and levy a special tax for for the benefit of Fayetteville public schools.

There came a request from Representative Woodson, of Cleveland, for the Senate b... increasing the salary of the governor to $6,000 to be made a special order for Monday, at noon. It was found, however, that the bill has not been sent over to the House from the Senate yet.

The privileges of the floor were accorded to Col. George L. Morton, now of Atlanta, and formerly representative from New Hanover county.

The public building bill carrying provision for one million dollars bonds for erecting a fire-proof State administration building, was the first taken from the calendar when the passage of bills was taken up. It had been to the Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds and been returned with unanimous favorable report. As the clerk was reading the bill there was a motion by Turlington for the bill to go to the Committee on Appropriations before passage. The rules, he pointed out, require this. There was an appeal from Mr. Horne, author of the bill, for immediate passage because of the great importance of the measure. A motion to suspend the rules and allow immediate passage failed and the bill went to the Committee on Appropriations.

Passed Final Reading.

Provide township meeting houses in Pitt and Wilson counties. Consolidate stock laws in Jackson. For better schools in Wendell district, Wake. Appoint justices of the peace in Craven. Repeal the law establishing a police commission in Asheville. Confer police powers on deputy sheriffs in Franklinville, Randolph county. Tax dogs in Caswell. Tax dogs in Wayne. Amend law establishing boards of police and fire commissions for Durham. Amend drainage law for Clark's creek, Lincoln county. Amend the act providing commission form of government for Greensboro. Incorporate Womble's Chapel, Anson county. Allow Hertford county to pay $1,000 toward a Confederate monument. Secure to the use of the people the use of the lakes in Bladen, Columbus and Cumberland counties. Regulate fishing in Lumber river in Robeson and Columbus counties. Provide general jurisdiction for February and August terms of Superior Court in Moore county. Regulate fishing with gill nets in Croatan Sound. Increase pay of jurors in Pitt. Relief of clerk of the court in Randolph. Increase pay of Cumberland commissioners.

Amend the Revisal by making the offenses felonies instead of misdemeanors specified in Sections 3595, 3613, 3615, 3764, 3763. These include participance in wrecking a train and a variety of other things. There was a lengthy discussion but there was no opposition when it was made clear that the Judiciary Committee had gone into the matter and recommended that the bill pass as drawn.

There was a considerable discussion over conflicting dates for the use of the hall of the House for hearing the Piedmont county advocates and opponents and for an address by the tuberculosis convention Tuesday night and an effort made to stave off the Piedmont hearing. However, this could not be done because of preparations that have been made for bringing delegations here for Tuesday afternoon and night when the committee fight will be on. The Senate chamber was secured for the tuberculosis convention. The House adjourned to Monday at 11 o'clock.

"THE NORTH CAROLINA HOME."

New Series in Building and Loan Association Begins Next Saturday.

Established in March 1890 and having already matured its 22nd series, the "old pioneer," the North Carolina Home Building and Loan Association will open its 42nd series of stock on next Saturday and a limited number of shares are offered to the public, guaranteeing a safe and profitable investment. A list of the stockholders includes some of the best known and most progressive citizens of Wilmington a list of which with all particulars may be had by applying at the office of the secretary and treasurer, Mr. James H. Taylor, Jr., at the Court House. The officers of the Association are Mr. C. W. Yates, president; Mr. J. Weil, vice president; Hon. John D. Bellamy, attorney, and Mr. Jas. H. Taylor, Jr., secretary and treasurer. Any of the officers or stockholders will be glad to inform you of the splendid opportunities offered for investment in the new series about to open.

Funeral of Mr. J. H. Boatwright.

The funeral of Mr. J. Hal Boatwright, whose sudden death occurred Friday night, will be held from St. James' Church, of which he was long a communicant and vestryman, at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning, conducted by Rev. Dr. Wm. H. Milton, the rector, assisted by Rev. Thos. P. Noe, rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd. The children of the Sunday School of the Church of the Good Shepherd, of which Sunday School Mr. Boatwright was superintendent for many years, will attend the services in a body. Mr. Boatwright was a member of Cape Fear Camp, Confederate Veterans, and members are called to assemble at the armory half an hour before the funeral to attend the service in a body.

Men's Meeting This Afternoon.

Rev. H. E. Beatty, pastor of St. Matthew's Lutheran church, will be the speaker at the regular men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. this afternoon at 5 o'clock. Mr. Beatty is a pleasing speaker and will doubtless be heard by a large crowd. An attractive musical programme has been arranged. All men of the city, whether members of the Association or not, are cordially invited to attend.

Funeral of Mrs. Heyer.

The funeral of Mrs. Margaret Elizabeth Heyer, whose death occurred Friday morning, will be held from the late residence, corner Fourth and Red Cross streets, at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The interment will be in Oakdale cemetery. Mr. and Mrs. Matt J. Heyer, who were in New York, when their mother passed away, are expected to arrive this morning.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Announcement was made today of the engagement of Miss Lona Tillman, daughter of Senator Tillman, of South Carolina, to Charles Sumner Moore, a lawyer of Atlantic City, N. J. The wedding will take place in April at Trenton, S. C.

INTER-URBAN TROLLEY LINE.

Charlotte's Subscription Runs Up to $300,000—Interest Great.

(Charlotte Observer, Jan. 23.)

The Duke party, including Messrs. J. B. and D. N. Duke, R. B. Arrington, W. S. Lee, Jr., and Z. V. Taylor and several others, left last evening aboard Mr. Duke's private car for Spartanburg, S. C., where they will spend today. This afternoon at 3 o'clock there will be held in the rooms of the Spartanburg chamber of commerce a mass meeting of the influential citizens of Spartanburg and vicinity at which time there will be subscriptions taken and pledges made for the proposed inter-urban that is to include Spartanburg in its itinerary as one of its main centers of activity. It is expected that Spartanburg will be asked to raise that amount of stock necessary to defray approximately one-fourth of the expense of constructing the electric railway in that neighborhood. Freight contracts will also be secured. Spartanburg is the terminus of the Greenville, Spartanburg & Anderson Railway Co., the corporation that has the job of building the inter-urban in South Carolina. Mr. J. P. Clark, general manager of the inter-urban, arrived in the city yesterday morning from Greenville and accompanied the party to Spartanburg last night.

Of particular interest to Charlotte people, however, is the fact that a meeting of the several committees appointed to secure subscriptions to stock as well as signatures to the freight contracts will be held at the Greater Charlotte Club rooms this afternoon at 5 o'clock. It is expected that the report will show the entire amount, $300,000, subscribed, as well as a goodly number of freight contracts, for it is hoped that a telegram may be sent to Mr. Duke in Spartanburg this afternoon informing him of the fact that Charlotte has made good her boast of being the most progressive and up-to-date city in the Carolinas.

WHITEVILLE NOTES.

Newsy Briefs from Columbus Seat of Government.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, N. C., Jan. 23.—Smallpox has broken out around Bolton, two white families having been reported down with the pest, Mrs. Callie Pridgen, an old lady eighty years being a victim of the disease.

The many friends and relatives in this county of Dr. Culbreth, of Wilmington, are expecting him in Whiteville soon on a visit.

There was a large attendance at the meeting of the Farmers' Institute in Tarbor last Saturday. Such meetings are being more generally attended by farmers than heretofore. An Institute meeting will be held at Old Dock today.

Work has started in earnest on the Chadbourn drainage district, and steps are being taken to organize others in our county.

County Commissioner E. J. Grimsley has bought a farm near Freeman from Mr. E. S. Lewis.

Recorder of Deeds Smith, has bought a home in the Vineland end of town, and will move into it this week. Mr. Dan Hester, of Chadbourn, will move his family to Whiteville and occupy the house vacated by Mr. Smith.

Our people heartily endorse the bill introduced in the Legislature never to permit the lakes in this section to pass into private ownership.

Rev. D. C. Geddie, pastor of Whiteville Methodist church, continues quite sick, and was not able to fill his appointment yesterday.

Mr. Leggett, a prosperous young farmer from Roebson county, who recently purchased the Britt place about four miles from town, is greatly improving his property. Mr. Britt was in town Saturday and says the lands in Columbus are just as good as in Robeson, and a great deal cheaper.

WILMINGTON BAPTIST UNION.

Second Day's Session at Long Creek —Interesting Programme.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Long Creek, N. C., Jan. 28.—The Saturday morning session of the Baptist Union met at 10 o'clock and was led in a devotional meeting by Rev. F. A. Liles, of Jacksonville. After this the roll of churches was called and it was found that 18 out of 36 churches were represented. The moderator appointed the following programme committee: Rev. G. A. Martin, F. A. Liles, A. C. Chaffin and R. E. Peele.

By 11 o'clock the house was packed to overflowing and Rev. C. F. Whitlock spoke upon the topic, "What is the Best Way to Teach Our Doctrine?" Rev. G. A. Martin next spoke on "What is the Best to Enlist all our People in Praying for and Giving to Missions?" Rev. R. E. Peele also spoke on an interesting subject.

The afternoon session was opened by prayer by Rev. R. E. Peele and the work of the Sunday School was the special order for the afternoon. The first speaker was Rev. A. C. Chaffin, who discussed in a clear and forceful way, the kind of superintendents needed in our schools. Rev. R. E. Peele also spoke on this subject as did also Mr. W. J. Moore, superintendent of the Brooklyn Sunday Schol. Mr. James Herring, of the Masonboro Sunday School, also made some helpful remarks on this subject. Mr. W. K. Banks spoke upon the kind of teachers needed in our Sunday Schools. Superintendent W. L. Moore made a stirring speech "How to get Scholars in the Sunday School." The next speaker was Rev. J. H. Beck, of Barlow's Chapel Church, who delivered a very instructive talk on "How to Teach in Sunday School." Rev. F. A. Liles also made some remarks on this subject.

A rising vote of thanks was tendered to the people of the community for their unexcelled hospitality in entertaining the Union. The pastor announced that Rev. F. A. Liles would preach at 8 o'clock in place of Rev. W. B. Rivenbark, who was absent. The Union will close today with a Sunday School mass meeting at 10 o'clock and a sermon at 11 o'clock by Rev. R. E. Peele, of Burgaw.

NEW SEABOARD TRAIN.

Much Interest in Raleigh in Proposed New W. & W. Schedule.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 28.—The Corporation Commission has practically completed arrangements for requiring the Seaboard Air Line Railway to put on an additional passenger train between Raleigh and Hamlet, leaving Raleigh in the morning and returning in the evening. Supt. Gore, of the Seaboard, has the matter up with the head officials of the company and the train will very likely be in operation in a short time.

A legislative movement requiring another train extending the Norfolk to Goldsboro train of the Atlantic Coast Line on to Wilmington is attracting much attention. Representative R. L. Carr, of Duplin, has introduced in the House a bill providing for this additonal train. This additional train service is much desired by the people of Wilmington and those residing between Wilmington and Goldsboro and they have given strong endorsement to the movement.

The North Carolina Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis will meet in seventh annual session in Raleigh Tuesday. The morning and afternoon sessions will be held in the rooms of the chamber of commerce and the night session in the hall of the House of Representatives.

STATES CHOOSE SENATORS.

Election After Bitter Fight at Charleston—Delaware Situation.

Charleston, W. Va., January 24.—Contrary to general expectation and before the Republican Senators, who returned this morning from Cincinnati, could settle their differences with the Democratic members of the upper chamber, the West Virginia Legislature today proceeded to the election of the two United States Senators. On the first ballot, W. E. Chilton, Democratic nominee, received 62 votes, three more than enough to elect, and Clarence Watson was two short, with 57 votes. None of the Republican members of the Legislature voted. The fifteen Senators of that party were absent from the upper chamber and the Republicans in the lower house were recorded as "Not voting."

Excitement was created in the House when Nelson C. Hubbard, a Democrat, son of Congressman Hubbard, and ten followers bolted the meeting. Hubbard declared the Watson nomination had been secured through bribery in the caucus. He nominated J. W. Davis, Congressman-elect from the First district. This was seconded by Robinson, of Harrison county, who had a speech along the same lines as Hubbard's. When put to a vote, Watson received 51; Davis, 10; Edimston, 1.

In the Senate, with the Republicans absent, the sixteen votes were scattered among eight candidates, Watson receiving six. This gives him 57 on joint ballot, with 59 necessary to a choice. C. W. Campbell, of Huntington, was nominated in the House by Hubbard, for the other vacancy, and five bolted with him. Campbell declined on the ground that he was out of the running, since he had been turned down by the caucus, and asked the members to vote for Chilton. Chilton accordingly received the necessary number to elect. In the Senate the vote was scattered, but Chilton led.

After the votes were counted, Democratic members announced that an investigation of the bribery charges would be made.

Tampa, Fla., January 28.—Jockey A. Burton is at his home near the race track here, in a critical condition, as the result of a fall sustained when his mount, Dr. Abington, jumped the fence and fell, in the fourth race this afternoon. He has a fracture of the skull and is still unconscious. His chances for recovery are slight.

Jacksonville, Fla., Jan. 21.—A large freight steamer flying the British flag went onto the reefs this morning between Miami Beach and Cape Florida. Name of steamer is unknown. She is lying slightly on one side. Boats have gone to her assistance.

EDUCATION IN COLUMBUS.

Teachers' Association—The Potash Situation—Other News Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, N. C., Jan. 28.—The County Teachers' Association met in the auditorium here yesterday, and it was one of the largest attended and most interesting assembly ever held of that body. The room was filled with teachers and friends, and some very fine addresses were made. Mr. G. Herbert Smith, of Cronly, was one of the speakers and his address was highly complimented. Mr. A. B. Benton, of Evergreen, also delivered a fine talk. Superintendent Wooten stated that the county schools were never in so prosperous condition or such great interest taken in the cause of education. Mr. Wooten is now at work organizing Boys' Corn Clubs in the county, and asks that every teacher instruct their pupils about progressive agriculture.

Mr. G. Herbert Smith, manager of the Acme Fertilizer Company, of Cronly, with headquarters in Wilmington, was yesterday asked about the situation in the German potash matter. He stated that a large number of representatives have been camping in Washington for some time, and they made earnest appeals to President Taft for redress. He says they were also backed by representative men from Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, New York and other Northern States. The President was non-committal but asked for copies of all contracts with German potash miners, as also papers relating to the matter. These were prepared, printed and handed to the President and he promised to give the matter his earliest consideration. The best legal talent in the country has advised the President that he was entirely justified in taking retaliatory measures against the German government. Mr. Smith says he is confident the President is preparing to issue an ultimatum to the German government, and while he may not succeed in having all wrongs righted he believes that some compromise will be effected by which at least a part of the exactions will be removed.

Your correspondent asked Mr. Smith about the prices of commercial fertilizers the coming season. He said there would be no advance in many lines of goods, but in high-grade fertilizers a slightly increased price would be charged, owing to the advance in the price of high-grade materials. Mr. Smith stated that the Acme Company had now put its agents on the road, with instructions to meet competition from any quarter. He says for several weeks they have had every available hand unloading ingredients and his company now has in store over $360,000 worth.

A gentleman who has recently traveled all over our county and his busines bringing him in direct contact with the farmers, says he finds the people everywhere enthusiastic on the subject of good roads, and they will vote that bond issue without question. It is estimated that it will cost $1,000 per mile to build the Charlotte-to-Wilmington highway through Columbus county and the distance to be traveled through Columbus will be near 50 miles. There is a great boom here now for drainage and good roads. This old county is certainly on the up-grade and land has more than doubled in value the past year.

Dr. H. B. Maxwell, county physician, says that smallpox is not spreading and the disease is well in hand. There are a few new cases, but he does not think it will spread much farther as there has been a general vaccination and the patients are quarantined.

CAROLINA DEFEATS V. C. C.

First Basketball Game of Season at the University.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Chapel Hill, N. C., Jan. 27.—Carolina won the first basketball game of her first season from Virginia Christian College tonight 42 to 21. At the start the game was very close, the local players were not up to their form until they had gotten over the uncertain feeling that came from going in their first inter-collegiate. The score at the end of the first half was Carolina 13, V. C. C. 11. Carolina started in the second period with a rush and so on piled up a big lead on their opponents who had weakened. The locals quite outweighed the Virginia team but put up an inferior article of team work in the first period.

Cartmell was pretty well satisfied with the outcome of the game and said that he expected a marked improvement by February 1st, when the team faces the Durham Y. M. C. A.

A. & M. BASEBALL.

Strong Team Being Organized for the Coming Season.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

West Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 28.—Capt. Freeman issued his first call for candidates for the baseball team last Monday, the following men from the large number reporting, being given uniforms at this time: Seifert, Stafford, Robertson, Speer, Hartsell, McCracken, Ross, Page, Freeman, Brown, Tucker, Hardie, Beal, Leonard, Patton, Jaynes, Farmer, Cole and Williams. All but the six last named were members of the 1910 squad.

Of the new men LeGrand was secured catcher for Trinity for one or two seasons. Jaynes is a pitcher from the western part of the state, and gives promise of developing into varsity material. Farmer has formerly of Guilford College and plays in the outfield. Cool is the hit-back who made such a reputation for himself last Fall. His position is third base. Patton is a catcher who will make anyone work hard to beat him out of his position. Williams comes from the University and is one of the very best shortstops in college baseball in the State.

Only two men of last year's very successful team are not back this year, these men being Pitcher Sexton and Third baseman Black, both having graduated last June.

At this early date a forecast of the probable line-up of the varsity team is as follows: catchers, Seifert first, Patton, LeGrand and Cole, substitutes; pitchers, Stafford and Robertson, Jaynes, Tucker and Beal, substitutes; first base, Robertson, substitute, Gare; second base, Speer, Page and Street, substitutes; shortstop, Williams, McCracken substitute; third base, Cool, substitutes to be developed; left field, Ross; center field, Freeman; right field, Brown; substitute fielders, Kearney, Spencer, Sanders and Hardie. There are a great many men yet to report who will do so when the weather permits Coach Thompson to have his first general practice.

Stafford will be the Red and White's main dependence in the box this season and judging from his work last year he will equal if not surpass Sexton's great work. Robertson, who will probably alternate between the pitcher's box and first base, was not used very often last year on account of his extreme wildness, but his arm is now in much better shape and it is expected that he will work in the box this Spring.

The nine turned out by Coach Thompson last year had the best team work of any previous baseball team at A. & M., and it is confidently expected that Thompson's team this year will equal if not excel last year's nine in team work.

Manager O. M. Sigmon will shortly announce his baseball schedule which will contain 25 or 26 games.

DURHAM NEWS.

Smallpox Situation in Buie City—City Refunding Debt—Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Durham, N. C., Jan. 28.—At a meeting of the city board of health Thursday night it was reported that there were 20 new cases of smallpox in the city. This piece of news was received as a surprise to the most of the citizens of Durham, as it was thought that the situation was considerably improved. Up until the meeting no new cases had been reported for some time; in fact, almost everyone thought that the danger line had been passed.

It is said that these 20 new cases have all developed since last Tuesday night. Nearly every case is in a white family, and one family has five cases. Compulsory vaccination has not been ordered in the city, but the schools and the factories have done so.

The quarantine that was put in force against Durham by Oxford and Granville county some time ago, has not yet been raised. Chase City, Va., just across the line, has also recently quarantined against Durham. Dr. S. D. Boothe, superintendent of health of Granville county, says that the situation in that section is not very much improved, but that the quarantine against Durham will be raised just as soon as the condition will permit.

At a recent meeting of the board of aldermen a resolution was passed providing that the question of raising the floating indebtedness of the city by a bond issue be submitted to a vote of the people. It is now rumored that a special session of the board will be called for the purpose of withdrawing this measure. It will be remembered that when the question was put before the board and voted on, they tied, and Mayor Griswold decided the question by placing himself in favor of the resolution.

Since the matter was brought before the board there has been a growing sentiment against the move; that the question should be decided by a direct vote of the aldermen. The money was borrowed on short term notes, and many of these are much over due. Many citizens argue that it would be better to bond the indebtedness, whereby the interest would be reduced from 6 per cent. to about 4 per cent., than to let it run on as it is. The question promises to bring out some interesting discussion when it is brought up.

The funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Tyre Walker were conducted Thursday morning from St. Philip's Episcopal church. Mrs. Walker was a deaf mute, and the services were conducted in sign language. Rev. Sidney S. Bost, rector of the parish, read the Episcopal ritual, and Miss Robie L. Tillinghast interpreted it to the mutes. The vested choir sang "My God, While I Stray," and "O Paradise," and these were interpreted to the congregation of deaf and dumb. All the pall-bearers and flower-bearers were mutes. A more solemn and impressive service has never been held here.

GOLF AT PINEHURST.

Boston Player Won in Final—Results of Day.

Pinehurst, N. C., January 28.—Irving C. Wright, of Boston, defeated Henry C. Bridgers, of Tarboro, N. C., 6 to 1, 6 to 1, 6 to 2, in the final of the men's singles of the first annual midwinter tennis tournament, the conclusions of a tournament which rounded the full week.

Mrs. C. F. Hager, of Lancaster, Pa., won the women's singles from Mrs. R. C. King, of New Canaan, Conn., 7 to 5, 6 to 4.

Wright and Bissell were the winners of the men's doubles.

Strong Healthy Women

If a woman is strong and healthy in a womanly way, motherhood means to her but little suffering. The trouble lies in the fact that the many women suffer from weakness and disease of the distinctly feminine organism and are unfitted for motherhood. This can be remedied.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Cures the weaknesses and disorders of women. It acts directly on the delicate and important organs concerned in motherhood, making them healthy, strong, vigorous, virile and elastic.

"Favorite Prescription" banishes the indispositions of the period of expectancy and makes baby's advent easy and almost painless. It quickens and vitalizes the feminine organs, and insures a healthy and robust baby. Thousands of women have testified to its marvelous merits.

It Makes Weak Women Strong. It Makes Sick Women Well.

Honest druggists do not offer substitutes, and urge them upon you as "just as good." Accept no secret nostrum in place of this non-secret remedy. It contains not a drop of alcohol and not a grain of habit-forming or injurious drugs. Is a pure glycerie extract of healing, native American roots.

THE MORNING STAR

Published by the WILMINGTON STAR COMPANY, INC., Wilmington, N. C.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Wilmington, N. C., under Act of Congress, March 2nd, 1874.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE MORNING STAR, the oldest daily newspaper in North Carolina, is published daily except Monday, at $6 per year, $3 for six months, $1.50 for three months, 50 cents for one month, served by carriers in the city, or by mail.

THE SUNDAY STAR, by mail, one year, $1; six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES may be had on application, and advertisers may feel assured that through the columns of this paper they may reach all Wilmington, Eastern Carolina and contiguous territory in South Carolina.

Obituary sketches, cards of thanks, communications espousing the cause of a private enterprise or a political candidate, and like matter, will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per line, or if paid cash in advance, a half rate will be allowed. Announcements of fairs, festivals, balls, hops, picnics, society meetings, political meetings, etc., will be charged under same conditions, except so much thereof as may be of news value to readers of the paper.

Advertisements discontinued before expiration of contracts are charged transient rates for time actually published. Payment for transient advertisements must be cash in advance. Contract advertisers will not be allowed to exceed their space at same rates or advertise anything foreign to their regular business without extra charge. Advertisements to occupy special place will be charged for according to position desired.

TELEPHONES: Business Office, No. 51; Editorial and Local rooms, No. 61. Call either, if the other doesn't answer.

COMMUNICATIONS, unless they contain important news, or discuss briefly and properly subjects of real interest, are not wanted; and if acceptable in every other way, they will invariably be rejected unless the real name of the author accompanies the same, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

Sunday, January 29, 1911.

The people are greater than anybody else in the United States. Politicians invariably take the voters for the people.

"Do women have a sense of humor?" inquires a writer. Well, you should think so to see them laugh a mollycoddle to scorn.

The cur dog has his friends in the General Assembly and they seem to be standing by him. It is barely possible that they hope to cur-ry favor with any large element of voters in the State.

Senator Hale, of Maine, it is said, has declared that he "almost despairs of the Republic." It is natural for Standpatters to feel that way when they feel the Republic slipping through their fingers in the direction of the people.

Miss Sophie Loeb is writing a series of articles for the New York World on "Ten roads for a happy business woman." How about ten paths of rectitude for some overly slick business men?

Wilmington's exports and imports are getting to be so consequential it would be a good idea for our business men to organize an Exporters and Importers Association. The possibilities are great for extending the export and import business of the port.

President Taft's proposed reciprocity treaty with Canada is not favorably received by the Standpatters. That should arouse the President's suspicions that he is on the right track. He should remember that the Standpatters have been ruled out of the game.

Leading business men of Charlotte have organized a corporation to induce industries to locate in that city and to aid in their establishment. The minimum capital stock will be $100,000 and the maximum $500,000. The Star some time ago urged this plan in Wilmington and our city should have been the North Carolina pioneer in this movement.

The Dog Senators at Raleigh are playing for a "recall." If they do not believe that the people of North Carolina want some kind of legislation for the protection of sheep and the encouragement of a neglected and now impossible industry, they had better try the voters on a referendum law to that effect. That is the best way to settle the matter as to whether or not North Carolina is a Dog State.

In the California Senate on Thursday Senator Bell's proposed constitutional amendment, conferring equal suffrage on women, was adopted by a vote of 33 to 5. It must be inferred that the ladies in California have decided that hey really want to vote. Men are always willing to comply with the wishes of the ladies and they will come to it in North Carolina when the suffragettes win over the majority of North Carolina's lady citizens.

Two Democratic members of the Massachusetts Legislature voted for Senator Lodge "on personal grounds," although he opposes and will fight everything in the State Democratic platform—tariff relief, reciprocity with Canada, election of United States Senators by the people, and the initiative, referendum and recall. When Senator Lodge votes in the Senate he will vote on partisan grounds and will refuse to reciprocate personal favors.

THE GROWL OF OLD TOWSER.

In the North Carolina Senate at Raleigh, on Thursday, Senator Cotten's bill to encourage sheep raising in North Carolina was laid on the table. The growl of "Old Towser" was all sufficient. Thus a wide-spread hope in the State has been blasted, and it moves Editor Wade Harris, of the Charlotte Chronicle, to lament:

"And so the Senate has voted "agin" the dog law. We suppose that kills it, as we had looked to the Senate to father the measure and work it through the House. Meanwhile the sheep industry in the State is about making its last gap."

North Carolina would be a great sheep raising State if it wasn't for the dog Legislatures which meet at Raleigh every two years. When the legislators once realize the possibilities of the sheep raising industry in this fortunately situated State, they will cease to pit against it the useless and inexcusable sheep killers and egg-suckers of the dog family.

The average dog is not an asset but a liability. He is both a consumer and a non-producer. He is a loafer and a vagrant, but he is a diplomat all right. He can kill a valuable sheep and by the wag of his tail pull the wool over the eyes of the average legislator. He can break up the nest of a "setting hen" and limit the possibilities of fried chicken, but by being frisky and friendly he can make it all up with a North Carolina lawmaker.

The sheep-killer and the egg-sucker can slink around all over the country and make it well nigh impossible for us to indulge in mutton. They can prowl about and glut themselves on fresh eggs and cut a whole family out of having ham-and-eggs for breakfast, but by an unassuming demonstration of affection and traditional faithfulness he gets a pat on the head and legislative sanction. He doesn't have to give any song and dance, he doesn't have to hang around the lobby, and he has no vote and no graft to influence legislation, but he always and strangely has the majority on his side. He can get the average legislator to do more for him than he will for a farmer, and as between a corporation capable of big developments and a dog which sets up a bar against the wool and mutton industry, the legislator usually lines up with the dog.

All dog States are a hundred years behind the times. We got behind on raising corn, but we have waked up to the fact that we can beat the world raising that cereal. We are far behind on the meat question, and especially away behind on the sheep question, totally uninterested in the wool market, and seemingly knowing nothing of the savoriness of lamb chops, mutton roast or the kind of hash that makes an expicure's hair curl. Legislators are more or less friendly to the hog, but it is because he can root for himself and doesn't interfere with the supremacy of the dog. A worthless cur can coil up in the sunshine and appear more important to a dog legislator than a flock of sheep silhouetted on the hillside or nibbling on the meadow or the lawn. This is the way it is in a dog State.

North Carolina is a State of wonderful productive capabilities. A few hours' transportation puts her products in markets supplying 30,000,000 people. North Carolina can produce everything that can be grown in the North and hundreds of things Northern farmers cannot grow. Literally, there are millions of apetites and hungry mouths for us to cater to, but we are not doing it. The greatest markets of America eagerly take North Carolina strawberries, dewberries, huckleberries, and truck, and they would as eagerly consume even more millions of dollars worth of our products if we would cater to them. Every pound of wool and every pound of mutton that could be produced in North Carolina would find ready and close markets, but we let a herd of mangy curs lie between us and a great opportunity that can be easily seized. Our legislators, with dog predilictions, even refuse to coral the cur and turn the sheep loose. They doggedly refuse to give the farmers a chance to supply the home demand for mutton, much less enact progressive legislation that would open the eyes of the State's producers to the limitless market for mutton and wool. Probably it is feared constructive legislation would "make a dog laugh."

North Carolina has two or three woolen mills making blankets and linseys, and competing with the world in their products. Time was when the Rock Island Mills of Charlotte, manufactured fine cassimers and woolen clothing material, but years ago the wool supply in the State dwindled, the fires of that factory were banked, the spindles and looms hushed, and the smokeless stacks constitute a silent monument over an industry dead as Hector.

The sheep industry in North Carolina would give new impetus to the few woolen mills of the State, others would be built, and another great industry would take its place in the manufacturing development of North Carolina. The sheep industry would mean two industries at one clip, and it would add millions of dollars to the wealth of the State.

Nevertheless, the yelping cur bays the moon and a North Carolina Legislature stands by him when he does it!

CIVIC LEAGUE MOVEMENT.

It is hoped every live, public-spirited and progressive citizen of Wilmington read the communication in The Star yesterday concerning the movement of the Wilmington Civic League for "A Cleaner, Healthier and More Beautiful Wilmington." That article emanated from the League and it was timely and vitally important.

The subjects which the Civic League emphasizes are both serious and attractive, and in order to impress them upon the people of Wilmington a public meeting under the auspices of the League has been called at the Colonial Inn for Tuesday night at 8.15 o'clock. All citizens are invited to be there and give the movement the benefit of their influence and co-operation. In fact, it is a duty which the people of Wilmington owe to themselves to make a note of the meeting and be present and take an active and earnest part in the plans of those who are working in the interest of the city. Both ladies and men are invited to participate in the meeting and lend a helping hand in the timely and praiseworthy effort to have a cleaner, healthier and more beautiful Wilmington

The primary object of the League at this time is to enter upon a "cleaning campaign." The time for it is opportune and there is no need to press the necessity and advantage of the campaign. It is proposed to have a "Spring Cleaning"—to clean the streets, alleys and lots of the city, and get them in order for the Summer. It is the purpose to give them a thorough clensing and keep them clean hereafter. That means a healthier and more decent city, while such a renovation as is contemplated will greatly improve appearances throughout the city. The design is to invade every nook and corner of the city, and to rake and scrape and cart away everything that litters the streets and yards, harboring germs and insects and breeding flies, mosquitoes, fleas and disease.

The Civic League has a comprehensive plan in view but it needs backing and co-operation. It is entiled to it and should have it. The city will be divided into sections and invaded by cleaning brigades that possibly may sweep the city in a day, or keep up the work till it is finished in the most effective manner. Prizes will be offered to boys who will get together the biggest piles of trash, and other measures necessary to a successful campaign will be carried out. Later the League will enter upon a beautifying campaign and in that particular it will co-operate with the Civic Department of the Sorosis which already has announced a comprehensive plan for making Wilmington look like "a new blown rose in June, a lily wet with due."

Mr. Adam Empie, president of the League, is enthusiastic over all the schemes for city betterment, and he shall have the hearty co-operation of the men and women of Wilmington. Display your keenest interest and make a date for yourself at that Colonial Inn conclave on Tuesday evening. Mark the time, but don't "mark time."

The country is safe! The North Carolina General Assembly has just passed the bill to "protect rainbow trout in Graham."

The Charleston News and Courier speaks of "sapiency." Sapiency is what makes people decide that Wilmington is a good distributing point, and, therefore, that it is the very place they are looking for to establish commercial and manufacturing enterprises. To come to Wilmington means to want to live in Wilmington and profit by its sure and steady progress.

The million dollar bond issue bill for State buildings at Raleigh has been made the special order in the North Carolina General Assembly for Wednesday night, February 8th. With the present condition of the State Treasury and the rather unsettled condition of the outstanding bond issues, we should advise caution in dealing with a question of such magnitude. There can be no doubt of the need of the fire-proof administration building, but the strictest idea of economy should govern legislative action on this question.

Paper dressing gowns, bath robes and other articles of female and male attire are being manufactured on a large scale in England, France and Germany. Various and variegated color effects are employed, and it is said some of the paper wearing apparel is quite popular. The Japanese originated this paper clothes fad, and it is said that paper uniforms worn by Japanese troops proved quite serviceable and warmer than those of cloth. Whatever takes in London, Paris or Berlin will be sure to be picked-up by Americans, so we can prepare for paper clothes.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The proposition for the employment of State convicts in completing the turnpike between Lenoir and Blowing Rock has been adopted with modifications that do not materially affect the bill. The Governor and his council have only to see that the State sustains no loss. This the turnpike people would neither desire nor permit.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Deprecating the Chronicle's suggestion that fox hunting is a sport of the past, the Greensboro Record says it is made in the face of an article where reference is made to the depredations of foxes in Iredell county, where they are killing chickens and other fowls to the consternation of the citizens of the county. "If the people up that way will invite the fox hunters from this section they will go up and exterminate them in a hurry," says The Record. Yes, and they will tear up the wheat fields, break down fences, and if there happens to be a sheep fold in the neighborhood, abandon the fox for the sheep. And when the sheep owner gets his gun and kills the dogs that are killing his sheep he has to pay $2.50 and costs per dog for doing it. Hey?—Charlotte Chronicle.

The National Progressive Republican League is not, its promoters are careful to say, a new party, but simply an organization of Republicans designed to bring about certain reforms through the agency of the Republican party. The first thing sought, therefore, is party control. For the proposed reforms cannot be effected unless the Republican organization is controlled, or at least very profoundly influenced, by the new league. What will happen if the Republican party refuses to be thus influenced we are not told. That, we suppose, is a matter for future consideration. If the next National convention does not meet the wishes of the organized progressives it will then be time enough for them to decide what they will do. * * * It does stand for progress, and, what is better, for political courage and independence. We believe that even its campaign for a generally direct action of the people will accomplish good, for it will rouse the people to a sense of their duty, and will perhaps make the interests realize that the day of their empire is passing. The Republican party can stand a good deal of shaking up, for through its connection with the interests it has become distressingly conservative.—Indianapolis News.

Wednesday morning the Kent State-wide measure for the elimination of near-beer from North Carolina was formally sent from the judiciary committee of the House of Representatives to the liquor traffic committee of the same body. The last-named committee had few doubts and far between as to the advisability of the measure. Under ordinary circumstances, State-wide measures are retained in committee long enough for persons interested in their provisions to present arguments for and against. Apparently the committee saw no reason for argument in the case of near-beer. Assemblying Wednesday evening twelve hours or less after the receipt of the measure, the committee resolved upon a favorable report to the House, the only dissenting voice being that of Mr. Kellum, of New Hanover, who desired that certain Wilmington interests which desire the retention of near-beer in that city, be given time to be heard. To those unfamiliar with the near-beer situation this haste upon the part of the committee may seem a little radical, but the near-beer dealers have only certain of their own number to blame for the destruction of their own business. A dispatch from Raleigh declares that "Kill the stuff and kill it quick" was the slogan of the committee. This sentiment would never have found favor with these representatives of the people if the comparatively innocent beverage with its low per cent. of alcohol had been the only article dealt with in the places holding near-beer licenses. It is because some of the dealers, at any rate, have used their privilege as a cloak for gross violations of the law that there is so widespread a sentiment for the abolition of the traffic. Those who supported the State-wide prohibition movement and those who did not are agreed in this one thing, that the near-beer traffic has proved itself unworthy of countenance and that its abolition is necessary.—Charlotte Observer.

"KNOW YOUR CITY."

Wilmington Commercial Travelers Want to Know So They Can Tell It.

Wilmington, N. C., Jan. 28, 1911.

Editor Star:—I noticed in your paper of January 24th, an editorial headed, "Know Your City." This to me is one of the most pointed and practical suggestions I have noticed for some time. It seems to me as being the only proper solution by which we may expect results. I dare say there are not 10 per cent of our people in a position to answer any one of the questions mentioned in your article regarding the growth and business interests of our city.

Now there must be a reason for this. Do our people not appreciate their city? Yes, I am sure they do. Would they hesitate to invite any capitalist to invest with us and become our neighbor? Of course not, but if we should be asked what our articles of commerce are; about the depth of our channel; what our exports are; the extent of our railroad terminal facilities; the commodities and qualities of our manufacture; our taxes on investments; the inducements offered for manufacturers to invest, and many other things we might mention that are really essential to attract strangers, we are unable to answer correctly. How long are we going to continue to keep this important matter hid, as it were, from people who would gladly impart all of the knowledge daily to every nook and corner of this country?

We have in our midst something over one hundred commercial travelers, who are entrusted to handle the commercial interests of the city. We are the spokes in the great wheel of commerce. We make it possible for your railroads and your steamboats to maintain their schedules and to prosper. If we can do this and lots of other things, then why are we kept from being in a position to help upbuild our city? The commercial traveler is one of the greatest assets the city has. We are ready, willing, and anxious to do this. We have a Chamber of Commerce and a Commercial Club here, whose interests should be so closely identified with that of the traveling men that it should be inseparable. If it is not altogether practical for us to become regular members of either of these organizations, then make us honprary members. Invite us to come to your meetings, impart to us the knowledge and information that you would like for the world to know through us as we travel, discuss matters pertaining to the business and commercial interests of our city, and let us be posted. Give us encouragement and inspiration to do something, and it will be done. We do not go over this fair land of ours with a "pocket full of lemons." We greet our friends with a smile and always speak a word of good cheer for the ones at home.

When these suggestions are adopted, you will see a change. Make your traveling men as thoroughly conversant with the items concerning the city as they should be with the lines of merchandise they offer to the trade. This information should be thoroughly taught in our schools. It should be printed in pamphlet form giving all the details of interest. Let it be placed in every home in the city, supply the hotels, and as soon as a stranger enters our gates, let a booklet be put in his mail box. Introduce him to "Miss Wilmington," and as soon as he becomes acquainted, he will be sure to tell his friends of his new love.

Trusting we may get some inspiration from your article, and that we may be of some service, I am,

Yours respectfully,

W. O. PAGE,

TRIAL NOW WELL UNDER WAY

Twelfth Juror Selected Yesterday Afternoon and Examination of Witnesses Begun in Case Against J. C. Holly.

Having finally selected the 12 men who are to pass upon the guilt or innocence of the defendant, the examination of witnesses in the case of J. C. Holly, ex-preacher and formerly proprietor of the Rock Springs Hotel, for the murder of Edward Cromwell, about 18 years old, was begun in Superior Court at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The trial may be said to be well under way now, although little progress was made yesterday afternoon in the examination of witnesses. Better progress is expected this week and the case will probably be given to the jury some time Tuesday.

Owing to the illness of his wife Juror J. Well, selected at Friday's session, was excused by consent of counsel on both sides, yesterday morning, which left two jurors to be selected. At 11:30 o'clock Mr. W. V. Sellers was accepted, making the eleventh juror. Shortly before noon court took a recess until 2 o'clock, the officers being instructed to summons 30 more men in the meantime from which to select the 12th juror. Several were passed upon before a man was called at the afternoon session acceptable to the defense. At 2:21 P. M. the 12th juror entered the box in the person of Mr. H. W. Strickland. The following is the complete list of jurors, whose selection required a day and a half: Geo. R. Smith, W. D. Rhodes, H. M. McMillan, F. S. Shepard, A. Silverman, A. W. Murrell, Calvin Reaves, Melvin Horne, John S. Ramos, W. J. Davis, W. V. Sellers and H. W. Strickland. The jury was then formally empanneled to try the case against the defendant.

The testimony is being taken down by Mr. Meares Harriss, the expert court stenographer. Louis J. Poisson, Esq., a prominent young attorney, was engaged yesterday to assist the solicitor in the prosecution of the case, and B. G. Empie, Esq., who appeared with the solicitor Friday, will assist in the trial of the arson charge against the same defendant. The defendant is represented by Wm. J. Bellamy and C. D. Weeks, Esqs., who are putting up a vigorous fight.

Dr. C. D. Bell, county coroner, was the first witness called by the State. Dr. Bell did not see the body until after it had been removed to the undertaker's and he did not proceed far with his testimony before he was taken off the stand in order to first put on witnesses to testify as to the finding of the body of Cromwell in the burned Rock Springs Hotel on the morning of August 10th, Capt. W. P. Monroe, assistant chief of the Wilmington Fire Department, being called.

Capt. Monroe testified to responding to an alarm of fire early on the morning of August 10th, 1910, blaze located in the Rock Springs Hotel, on Chesnut, between Water and Front streets, and to the rescue of several men who were calling for help from the windows of their rooms in the building. Some minutes after he arrived, witness was asked by J. C. Holly, who was proprietor of the hotel, if he had seen anything of his boy. Witness asked what boy and in reply was told that reference was to Edward Cromwell, employed by Holly to do chores about the hotel. Holly stated that the boy occupied Room No. 4, and witness went immediately to the room, finding the body of the youth on the floor, life being extinct. His head was on a piece of comfort, the edges having been burned by the fire. He was lying on his back with his hands folded across his breast and his thumbs doubled back between his fingers. The head of the bed was to the north while the boy's head was to the south and the bed did not look as if it had been disturbed during the night. A mattress, sheet and pillow were all that were noticed upon the bed at the time. The body lay between the door and bed, about two feet from the foot and nearer than this to the bed. The witness was accompanied to the room by Chief Chas. Schnibben, of the fire department, and after the discovery of the body the witness came out of the building, walked across the street and said to Holly: "The boy is in there, but he is dead." Holly began crying at this intelligence. Witness returned to the room and with the aid of Firemen Frost and Farrow took the body from the room and carried it to a room downstairs. The defendant did not come into the building while the firemen were removing the body. The discovery of the body was made 30 or 40 minutes after the firemen reached the scene. Witness observed an abrasion on the hand and chin of the body, which was cold and stiff. The fire started in an adjoining room and a hole was burned in the partition separating it from the room in which the body was found. The foot of the mattress on the bed was found to be saturated with kerosene and the body was lying on a counterpane which had also been saturated with oil. There was a strong odor of kerosene in the room. The room in which the fire started was badly burned but the room in which the body was found was burned but slightly. The witness said that later in the day he asked Holly about his furniture, having noticed that some of the rooms had no furniture, and he said that one load had been shipped to Pikeville.

Room No. 4, contained much smoke and steam when the door was first opened. Although it was a hot night in August, the windows to the room were down and fastened. The door, however, was not bolted or locked. Only the underwear and socks were found on the body. An empty oil can, which had contained kerosene, was found in an adjoining room.

On cross examination by Mr. Weeks, the witness said that he did not know of his own knowledge whether the body found was that of Cromwell. He also stated that the glass in the room window on the hallway side was not broken until after the body had been taken out, and that water had been thrown on the body, therefore, he could not tell whether any oil had been poured over the body. He said that water had not been thrown on the mattress and, therefore, the oil was easily detected. The room was hot, but the body was cold and stiff.

Chief Chas. Schnibben was next called to the stand by the State. After a few preliminary statements relative to the fire and the progress it had made when he arrived he told of meeting Capt. Monroe in the front part of the building looking for room No. 4, and repeated the conversation he had with Holly relative to the boy not having been seen since the fire started. The witness and Capt. Monroe found Room No. 4 and opened the door, but the smoke was so dense that witness went to window opening on the hall and finding it fastened broke open the glass. After the smoke had filed out of the room through the window, witness went back and opened the door and found the body lying on the floor. The body did not seem to have been burned to any considerable extent. Some plaster had been knocked from the walls on the bed, which did not look as if it had been occupied during the night. A few hours later witness found on the floor where the body had been what looked to be a curtain or sheet. Picking it up he detected the odor of kerosene. He gave to Capt. Monroe the mattress, curtain, oil can, etc., found in the building to keep in his care until the trial of the case and these were exhibited in the court room and identified by Chief Schnibben as being the things taken from the building. The witness testified that the curtain or sheet upon which the body was lying still retains the odor of kerosene.

The witness said that when he saw Holly he was crying and stated that he was sorry the boy was dead; that if he could have saved him he would have done it, but could not get to him on account of the flames. When the body was discovered the fire was under control. The body was perfectly rigid when removed to the room in the front part of the house. In the opinion of the witness life had been extinct for about two hours. The flames did not reach door of Room No. 4, lacking about three feet.

In an adjoining room, probably used as a pantry, he found an oil can which contained about a half pint of gasoline. Also found a handkerchief on the bed. The finding of these articles was some hours after the fire, and as no one had been placed on the stand to show that the building was guarded in the interim between the fire and hour of discovery of the articles, this portion of the testimony was ruled out by Judge Peebles, but will probably be gotten in evidence tomorrow, as witnesses will testify to having been on guard at the building.

Capt. Monroe was recalled to testify that the things had been in his possession since the fire, but this was not admitted in evidence, on the same ground that the testimony as to the discovery of the articles was ruled out. Next witness was Fireman G. G. Smith, the State hoping to prove by him that the building had been guarded and that no one entered from the time the firemen left in the early morning until Capt. Monroe and Chief Schnibben returned later. Mr. Smith said that he went on duty as guard at 7 A. M. and as it had not been shown that any one was on duty up to that time, his testimony was not admitted in evidence.

It is stated that Firemen A. J. Burriss and J. K. Litgen were on duty until relieved by Mr. Smith, but they were not in court yesterday, so at 5 o'clock a recess was taken until tomorrow morning, when they will be placed on the stand.

Prof. W. A. Withers, chemist at the A. & M. College, Raleigh, who made the chemical analysis of the contents of the stomach of Cromwell, finding among other things traces of strychnine, was in the court room and Coroner Bell gave him two bottles—one containing whiskey and the other Bateman's drops, found in the burned building—to be analyzed to ascertain whether or not there is any strychnine or other poison in either. He will make report some time during the week.

A. Silverman, one of the jurors, stated to the court that some of the jurors had never served in a similar capacity before and wanted to know if they could discuss the testimony among themselves before the case is closed, and Judge Peebles answered in the negative. He then told the jurors that they must stay together and talk to no one about the case. "You may have plenty of coffee and tea, but no near-beer or whiskey," said Judge Peebles. "You may go to the beach tomorrow afternoon and have an oyster roast if you want to pay your expenses. You must not read any newspapers." Juror J. S. Ramos asked the court if the jury could "take in" the motion picture shows, which was answered in the negative.

Complaint having been made by jurors that about the bedding furnished by the county for use of the jurors who have to remain over night in the court room, Judge Peebles suggested that they be taken to a boarding house where they could be given connecting rooms. This could not be done, however, as no such boarding house could be found by the officers, who had made inquiries. The bedding was purchased some years ago and it is stated has never been aired, consequently has an odor as offensive as the bedding exhibited in the court room as having been taken from the Rock Springs Hotel. This condition should be remedied.

APPOINTMENT CONFIRMED.

Mr. B. F. Keith Gets the Collectorship at Wilmington.

A prominent business man yesterday morning received a letter from United States Senator F. M. Simmons stating that the Senate on Friday confirmed the appointment by President Taft of Mr. B. F. Keith as collector of customs at Wilmington, which information will be received with interest by the entire business community. Mr. Keith was re-appointed for the ensuing four years by President Taft some months ago, but it had been reported that the appointment had been held up in the Senate. Business men here made inquiries and the information came yesterday that the appointment had been confirmed.

At Brooklyn Baptist Church.

Rev. C. F. Whitlock will preach to his congregation today at 11 o'clock from the text, "Cut It Down. Why Cumbereth It the Ground." His subject will be the "Cumber Ground Church Member and His Doom." At night his subject will be "When Every Sinner Will Find Christ and be Saved."

At a largely attended and most enthusiastic meeting of Cape Fear Council No. 374, United Commercial Travelers, held last evening in its council room in the Murchison National Bank, Councilor W. O. Page presiding and Past Councilor L. H. Burnett acting as secretary, enthusiastic endorsement was given to the movement now well under way for the much-needed additional train service on the Atlantic Coast Line railroad between this city and Goldsboro.

No class of people are better able to judge of the needs of train service than the commercial traveler and no no class of citizens is more progressive and enterprising in their views than the "knights of the grip." The matter was brought up by Mr. J. S. Funchess and was quite enthusiastically discussed with the result that not only did members of the council affix their signatures to petitions that are being very generally circulated to the Corporation Commission asking for "an investigation and report" on this train, but the following resolution was unanimously passed with enthusiasm:

Council Hall, Cape Fear Council No. 374, United Commercial Travelers, at Wilmington.

WHEREAS, Through the introduction of a bill in the North Carolina General Assembly by Representative R. L. Carr, of Duplin county, and through other efforts, a movement has been inaugurated by the business public for a better passenger train service on the W. & W. Division of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, between this city and Goldsboro, corresponding to the service now given by the early trains on the Seaboard Air Line and the W. C. & A. division of the Atlantic Coast Line, and

WHEREAS, The movement for this train both in the matter of service and the ease and economy under which the service may be provided by an extension of the Norfolk Shoo-fly from Goldsboro to Wilmington is easily apparent to the most casual observer, and

WHEREAS, Such a service would be of incalculable benefit to the large number of traveling men, who are now dependent very largely upon private conveyance for covering this territory with anything like facility and dispatch, and for other reasons that will easily appear from an investigation of the subject of travel to and from points in this State, be it, therefore,

RESOLVED, That we join heartily in the petition to the Corporation Commission for a thorough investigation of the need of this service and, if found expedient, that the Corporation Commission at once take action to require the Atlantic Coast Line to provide this service.

Cape Fear Council No. 374, United Commercial Travelers,

By W. O. PAGE, Councilor.

Attest:: L. H. Burnett, Sec.

The traveling men are in dead earnest about this service, the lack of which they have suffered for many years and, if necessary, will send a delegation to Raleigh to fight for the measure before the Corporation Commission. The bill of Mr. Carr has been deferred in committee until the matter is first presented to the Corporation Commission, which will be asked to take some action before the General Assembly adjourns in order that there may still be time for Legislative action.

In this connection, Hon. Rivers D. Johnson, State Senator from the 10th Senatorial District, composed of the counties of Pender and Duplin, the youngest and one of the brightest members of either branch of the General Assembly, arrived in the city on the late train last night for the purpose of acquainting himself fully with the situation as to the additional train service and he has already joined hands with Representative Carr in bringing the matter forcibly to the attention of the Corporation Commission. He is of the opinion that the people have already suffered too long under the "ox-cart schedule" on the W. &W. and is very confident of winning. His position on the Corporation Commission Committee of the Senate will make him a valuable ally in the effort now to compel a service that has been denied for years and which is furnished out of Wilmington on every other line of transportation. He will return to Raleigh today, carrying the endorsement of the U. C. T.

Three League Games Played Last Night—Fine Exhibitions.

The League games of basketball at the Y. M. C. A. are growing more popular every week. The boys were honored last night by the presence of a number of the fair sex. The games were fast and interesting. The first game began at 7:45, and was between two Junior teams, Capt. Farrar's team defeating the team of Captain Haar by the score of 17 to 3. Captain Farrar was easily the star in this game. Next in order came the Senior games. The Seminoles, Capt. Houston, defeated the Actives, Capt. Kessler, 16 to 11. In the second game the Athletics, Capt. Hanson, defeated the Pirates, Capt. Fillyaw, by the score of 22 to 11.

MILD SENSATION IN COURT

Mr. J. N. Jacobi Cited to Appear Before Judge Peebles to Show Why He Should Not Be Attached for Contempt—Hearing.

A mild sensation was created in Superior Court yesterday afternoon when Judge R. B. Peebles issued a rule citing Mr. Jos. N. Jacobi, of the Jacobi Hardware Company, to appear before him immediately and show cause, if any, why he should not be attached for contempt of court for the alleged interference with Deputy Sheriff J. W. Smith in his efforts to secure summons on Mr. D. W. Davis, a clerk in the hardware store, as a juror to report on Wednesday of this week. The ruling of the court was immediately served on Mr. Jacobi by Sheriff S. P. Cowan.

Mr. Jacobi appeared in the court room a few minutes later in response to the order of Judge Peebles and endeavored to give an explanation, but the court would not hear to this, stating that Mr. Jacobi had best get a lawyer to appear for him at the hearing which is continued until Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock. The following is the rule in its entirety as issued by Judge Peebles:

"It appearing to the court that J. W. Smith was deputized by the Sheriff to summons jurors for Wednesday, Feb. 1st, 1911, to serve in the Superior Court and J. W. Smith, after being duly sworn according to law by the clerk of the Superior Court, in open court says that he went into one Jacobi's store in Wilmington to summons D. W. Davis as a juror when James N. Jacobi interfered with said J. W. Smith and ordered him out of the store and prevented him, the said Smith, from summoning said D. W. Davis,

"Therefore,

"The State of North Carolina, to the Sheriff of New Hanover County—

"Greeting:—You are forthwith commanded to notify said J. N. Jacobi to be and appear before R. B. Peebles, judge holding the January term, 1911, of New Hanover Superior Court, immediately and show cause if any he has why he should not be attached for contempt of court. Herein fail not and of this writ make due return. "R. H. PEEBLES, Judge.

"Jan. 28, 1911.

"J. W. Smith being duly sworn says that an order to summons 50 jurors to attend the Superior Court at 9:30 A. M., Wednesday, Feb. 1st, 1911, was placed in the hands of the Sheriff of New Hanover county on Jan. 28, 1911, and that affiant was deputized to summons among others one D. W. Davis, a clerk in the Jacobi Hardware Co., and that he went in the store of said company to serve a summons on said D. W. Davis and one Jas. N. Jacobi, a member of said firm, interfered with affaint and ordered him out of the store. "J. W. SMITH.

"Sworn and subscribed to before me this Jan. 28, 1911.

"W. N. HARRISS,
"Deputy C. S. C."

Deputy Sheriff Smith had a summons for both Mr. J. N. Jacobi and Mr. D. W. Davis as jurors for next Wednesday and he says that when he first entered the store he was told oy one of the clerks that neither was in, that Mr. Davis was a traveling salesman and was on the road, and that Mr. Jacobi had not returned from dinner. Another clerk, however, informed him that both were in the office. Officer Smith says that he then went to the office and found both Messrs. M. W. and J. N. Jacobi there and also another person whom he afterwards ascertained was Mr. Davis. He said that he inquired if Mr. J. N. Jacobi was in and as a reply was told to get out, that the office was private. The officer says that he insisted that he had come to summons him as a juror and that Mr. J. N. Jacobi then wheeled around in his chair and said in effect that "you d—— fellows always come down here when you want some one on the jury." Service, the officer says, was secured on Mr. Jacobi and he then asked for Mr. Davis, when he was ordered to leave the store forthwith. The officer said that he did not tarry longer. This was about 4 o'clock in the afternoon and the circumstances were reported to the court by the officer and the rule immediately issued.

Mr. Jacobi went to the Court House immediately after the rule was served on him by Sheriff Cowan and he walked up to the judge's bench and began as if to make an apology, but Judge Peebles would not hear him, stating that he had best get a lawyer. "I am sorry," said Mr. Jacobi, "that your honor should feel that way about it, I meant"—"It makes no difference," broke in Judge Peebles, "what you meant, the question is what you did. You had better get you a lawyer for you will need one. I will continue the hearing until 1 o'clock Monday afternoon" and with this the matter was closed so far as the court is concerned until Monday at the hour appointed.

MISTRIAL IN BOWMAN CASE

Eight Were for Acquittal and Four for Murder in the Second Degree—Defendant Hopes to Secure Bail.

Reaching the conclusion that the Superior Court jurors were in dead earnest in asserting that they were hopelessly divided in the case against John J. Bowman, the bright mulatto, charged with the murder of Eliza Hickson, colored, Judge Peebles yesterday morning withdrew a juror and a mistrial was ordered. The court ascertained that eight of the jurors stood for acquittal and four were in favor of a verdict of murder in the second degree.

The jurors having stated to the court Friday afternoon that none stood for first degree murder and that they stood divided as to acquittal and second degree murder, Judge Peebles, fearing that some question might arise later, suggested to the solicitor that he take a nol pros as to murder in the second degree, which suggestion was favorably acted upon. When Bowman is again tried it will be for second degree murder. The following four jurors stood out for conviction of murder in the second degree: J. S. Williams, M. M. Woody, J. B. Timberlake and W. R. Taylor, while those favoring acquittal were Eugene Harriss, J. H. Mohr, C. E. Williams, W. J. Hart, W. C. Suggs, L. C. Powell, J. W. Guthrie and G. S. Pridgen. It was stated yesterday that at one time during the deliberations Friday night the jury stood 11 to one in favor of acquittal. The jury had been out on the case since Thursday evening at 6:20 o'clock. They announced Friday that they were hopelessly divided, but Judge Peebles entertained the hope that they would be able to agree and sent them back for the night.

It is stated that the defendant will make an effort to give bond for his appearance at the next term of court. It is said that he could give any reasonable bond. The fact that the negro came so near of acquittal is a decided compliment to L. Clayton Grant, Esq., his counsel, for many of those who heard the evidence thought the defendant would not get off with anything less than second degree.

HOOKWORM DISEASE SUBJECT.

Dr. C. F. Strosnider Addressed Public School Teachers.

The feature of the regular monthly meeting of the New Hanover County White Teachers' Association, held at the Court House yesterday morning, was an address by Dr. C. F. Strosnider, assistant to the secretary of the North Carolina Board of Health, for the eradication of the hookworm disease. His subject was "Hookworm Disease," and he handled his theme in a most interesting and instructive manner. Dr. Strosnider called attention to the ravages of the disease throughout the South, and made a number of suggestions which will prove of value to the teachers in their efforts to aid in the campaign to eradicate the parasites. The teachers pledged their hearty support. Following the address, the regular programme was taken up under the direction of Prof. Washington Catlett, county superintendent of public instruction.

DELIGHTFUL BRIDGE PARTY GIVEN BY MRS. J. O. CARR.

Mrs. J. O. Carr delightfully entertained at bridge Friday afternoon at her charming new home at Carolina Heights in honor of Miss Constance Birch, of New York, the attractive guest of Mrs. A. G. Ricaud, and Miss Sallie Wright, one of this season's debutantes. There were three tables of bridge, the guests consisting mostly of young people, friends of the guests of honor. A most enjoyable evening was spent by those present, and after the game a delightful course of refreshments was served.

The Epworth League of Fifth Street Methodist church gave a delightful entertainment Friday evening, marking the close of a membership contest between the Whites and Yellows of the League. The Yellows won in the contest and the entertainment was given in their honor by the Whites. The programme included the following: Solo by Mrs. O. E. Ems; reading, Miss Gracie Craig; piano duet, Misses Hattie Gardner and Camille Fleet; reading, Mrs. H. W. Keen; solo, Mr. Glenn Pate. The concluding feature of the evening was an address by Rev. G. T. Adams, the pastor.

A very enjoyable affair indeed, was the party given by Miss Mary A. Thompson Friday evening at the home of her uncle, Dr. A. D. McDonald, 313 North Fourth street, complimentary to Miss Eugenia Murray, of Kenansville, and the Misses Marie and Erma Causley, two charming Wilmington girls, who their many friends will regret to learn, are soon to leave here to make their home in Chester, S. C. Quite a number of young people received invitations Thursday, and remembering the clever manner in which Miss Thompson had played the role of hostess on similar occasions in the past, they were not at all disappointed in their anticipations of a jolly evening's entertainment. Refreshments were served, games were played, and Miss Marcelle Smith charmed everyone with a recitation rendered very prettily indeed, and the merry party left at 11 o'clock, declaring that Miss Thompson was just it" when it comes to planning and executing delightful entertainment for young people.

Clarkton, N. C., Jan. 26.—On Wednesday afternoon, January 25th at 2:30 P. M., Miss Annie Florence Smith was united in marriage to Mr. Elihu Meares, of Blaney, S. C. The ceremony was performed by their old pastor, Rev. A. McFadyen. The parlor was beautifully decorated for the occasion with Southern smilax, ferns and cut flowers. The bride was beautiful in a blue coat suit with hat and gloves to match, and carried a shower bouquet of carnations and maiden hair fern. She was attended by Miss Nina Campbell, and Mr. Edgar Meares, a brother of the groom, was best man. The wedding march was beautifully rendered by Miss Ethel Smith, sister of the bride. The bride is the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Smith, and the groom is a popular young man of Blaney, S. C., holding a responsible position as operator with the S. A. L. at that place. Mr. and Mrs. Meares left immediately after the ceremony for an extended tour through Florida and other points South. They are very popular here and have many friends throughout the State who wish for them a long and happy wedded life.

SECRETARY'S ANNUAL REPORT OF RED CROSS SOCIETY.

In submitting this the 3rd annual report, the Wilmington Chapter of the American National Red Cross wishes to state the threefold object of the local society.

First: The support of the Red Cross nurse, to work exclusively among the white and colored tuberculosis patients of the city and nearby villages.

Second: The raising of funds to establish in our vicinity a tuberculosis camp where patients who need outdoor life with sanitary surroundings and nourishisg food can have proper care, protecting those who are near to them and prolonging the lives or curing the patient.

Third: To assist those who are unable to live in this part of the country to go to other localities where they may be benefitted.

The Red Cross nurse expended during 1910, $50 for nourishing food, for patients. The treasurer reports the amount subscribed toward the tubercular camp, on hand Jan. 1st, $291.36. This year a patient suffering from an advanced case of tuberculosis was sent to Phoenix, Arizona, with the hope of being benefitted, later reports from him to the effect that he was feeling well and daily getting stronger. The public, our main support, can materially help us, by purchasing largely our Christmas stamps, 12 1-2 per cent. of which goes to the National Society in Washington, while the remaining amount is kept for our local work. Second, by becoming members of our chapter, one-half of the membership dues being kept by the local branch, while the remaining half is sent to the National Red Cross Society, to be used in time of any war, flood or other disaster. Third, by contributing, of their means toward the "Tuberculosis Camp." Our enrollement this year is 141. We have contributed towards the Cherry, Illinois miners, and to the Paris flood sufferers. Thanking all thse who have aided us in our work, and asking for a renewed and continuance of same,

Respectfully submitted,
MRS. CUTHBERT MARTIN,
Sec'y. Wilmington Chapter American National Red Cross Society.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

—Mr. W. F. Jones returned yesterday from a business trip to Raleigh.

—Mr. L. Walker, of Town Creek, was in the city yesterday attending to business.

—S. B. Matthewson, Esq., of Cheraw, S. C., was a business visitor to the city yesterday.

—A. G. Ricaud, Esq., left last night for Washington, D. C., where he goes on professional business.

—Capt. Nicola de Landa, of the steamship "Eretza Mendix," will sing "Avamaria" at the 10:30 o'clock mass at St. Thomas' Catholic Church this morning.

—Many friends will regret to learn that Mr. H. H. Ford has been at the Wilmington Sanitarium the past few weeks on account of illness, but will be pleased to know that he is rapidly improving and hopes to be out again in a few days.

AUTOMOBILE REPAIRS.

Mr. L. B. Douglas Takes Charge of Department in Wilmington.

Automobile owners in the city and throughout this section will be interested in the announcement elsewhere in today's paper that the Wilmington Motor Car Co., has leased its repair shops on South Second street to Mr. L. B. Douglas, a thoroughly capable and experienced man, who will take charge on February 1st. Mr. Douglas came to Wilmington the latter part of December, highly recommended as an automobile expert with letters of recommendation from the Pierce Arrow, Fiat and Renault manufacturers, under whom he has served his time. In addition to this, automobile owners have had an opportunity to judge of Mr. Douglas' ability since he has been in charge of the shops of the Wilmington Motor Company, the management of which company unhesitatingly recommends him as a thoroughly efficient and capable automobile specialist, one of his strong points being his capacity to quickly diagnose the trouble and apply the remedy. Mr. Douglas has made good and a feature of his work will be a signed estimate on any job that he undertakes. All work will be guaranteed to be done in a workmanlike manner and to the satisfaction of the owner before acceptance, work to be paid for upon acceptance. Mr. Doughlas has the very best wishes of a host of newly made friends in this city for his complete success in this new undertaking. He is prepared to look after "trouble" at any hour day or night. His shop 'phone number is 741; residence No. 405.

LOCAL DOTS.

—The schooner Chas. K. Buckley, Capt. Fletcher, cleared yesterday for Georgetown, S. C., to receive cargo of lumber for Northern markets.

—The German steamer Martha Russ, Capt. Hansen, arrived in port yesterday from Hamburg with cargo of kainit to be discharged at the Seaboard terminals.

—Mr. D. L. Gore, Rev. G. A. Martin and Rev. C. F. Whitlock returned last night from the Union meeting at Long Creek. Others of the Wilmington delegation will remain over Sunday.

—There were only two cases on the docket for the attention of the Recorder yesterday. Willie Jenkins, colored, was fined $5 and costs for disorderly conduct and a drunk was required to pay the costs.

—Campbell Encampment No. 1, I. O. O. F., will celebrate the first social session of the year, tomorrow night, at which refreshments will be served, with music and short talks. Members of the other lodges in the city are cordially invited to attend.

—C. Hatch, the white painter, who cut James Justice, also a white painter, on the wharf Friday afternoon, surrendered himself to Acting Hall Officer D. W. Coleman early yesterday afternoon. He gave bond for his appearance before the Recorder tomorrow. Justice, as stated yesterday morning, was not seriously cut.

Petitions Being Circulated.

During the past few days petitions have been circulated for signatures asking that the Legislature exempt New Hanover county from the operation of the proposed State-wide bill against the sale of near-beer, beerine and kindred liquids, and the petitions, it is said, have been largely signed, but it is not thought that they will have any effect upon the members of the General Assembly, the majority of whom appear to be in favor of banishing such beverages from the State, excepting no county or section.

Foley's Kidney Remedy—An Appreciation.

..Theatrical..

Grand Theatre.

Last week was another record breaker at the "Theatre Beautiful", which goes to prove that Wilmingtonians will patronize anything that is up-to date. There is probably no city in the South save a few of the large ones, that can boast of having a theatre for moving pictures with all the features that attend the Grand. Supplied with an orchestra of picked musicians who play a high grade of music during intermissions, and also play effects during the pictures, is a feature that is alone worth the small admission. Mr. Harry Morgan who is gaining in popularity every day, has one of the finest baritone voices ever heard in this city, and with his happy disposition it is indeed a pleasure to hear hm sing. The ventilation of the theatre is perfect, seats are comfortable, and it is a real pleasure to spend an hour in this beautiful house. There is always an obliging corps of ushers to show patrons to the most comfortable and desirable seats, in fact, the entire atmosphere is very "New Yorkey." For tomorrow's bill the management presents three new reels of pictures with special music. Mr. Morgan will sing the beautiful ballad, "When They Gather in the Golden Corn." Doors open at 11 A. M., with a continuous performance.

Crystal Palace.

The vaudeville for the coming week consists of Mr. Leslie Howard and his sister, in a singing and dancing act, "Marvelous Ed.," acrobat and hand-balancing, and Miss RaMond, "The Searchlight Girl." These three acts will, doubtless make an attractive show. The pictures to be shown Monday are "The Wreck," a sea story of the pirate days, and "The Price of a Sacrifice, a new drama. The patronage for the past week was especially good in consideration of the disagreeable weather and the songs of the sister team won much applause. The performances Monday will be longer than usual, but regular hours will continue, matinees beginning at 3:30 and continuing till 5:30, and the night performances at 8:15 and 9:15

At the Bijou.

Large crowds were in attendance upon the performances at the ever popular Bijou the past week and there will doubtless be liberal patronage this week. Three reels of motion pictures will be shown at each performance, change every day. At tomorrow's performances Mr. Banks will sing "That Dreamy Italian Waltz."

OVER BERRY SECTION.

Indications Are Yield Will be as Great As Last Year.

Mr. H. D. Marks, assistant manager of the Georgia Fruit Exchange, and Mr. L. J. Powell, also a representative of the exchange, have spent the past week in visiting the strawberry section of of Eastern Carolina, both in and around Chadbourn and up the W. & W. railroad, and from their observations have come to the conclusion that while the acreage will be reduced the crop will be as large as last year because of better condition of the weather during the Winter and also the splendid condition of the plants at this season. They spent last night in the city and will leave this evening for the dewberry section, embracing Cumberland, Lee and Moore counties, where they will be until the latter part of the week. Upon their return they will visit the strawberry section up the Seaboard, around Bladenboro, Clarkton and Abbottsburg. They will then have covered the entire strawberry and dewberry section of the State. The exchange will handle the crop this year for a large portion of the strawberry growers and also the dewberry growers.

REPORTS DISABLED VESSEL

Schooner on Lookout Cove With Rudder Gone—The Cuter.

The revenue cutter Seminole, Capt. Crisp, was informed yesterday by the Department that a disabled schooner was lying in Lookout Cove with her rudder gone. The vessel was first reported through Beaufort, giving her name as the Gilbert Brothers and bound from Fernandina, Fla., to New York, with cargo of ties. The vessel will have to be towed to some port for repairs.

Capt. Crisp requested information through Beaufort yesterday in regard to the condition of the vessel and whether she had been given assistance by some passing tug. The cutter was in readiness yesterday afternoon for the trip to sea, but information was awaited from Beaufort. The officers thought it unnecessary to make the trip unless the vessel was in immediate danger.

A MEMORIAL SERVICE.

To Pay Tribute to Mr. Boatwright at Church of the Good Shepherd.

Saddened inexpressibly by the sudden death Friday night of Mr. J. H. Boatwright, who for nearly 40 years has given himself unstintedly and lovingly to the Good Shepherd, as superintendent of the Sunday School and as Lay Reader in the Church, the congregation of the Good Shepherd will have a special memorial service tonight, beginning at 7:30 o'clock, both as to tribute of appreciation and affection for a devoted friend, who has served them gladly and well and as an expression of gratitude to God for a long life of noble service to His glory and the lasting edification of the community.

The morning service will be at 11 o'clock and the Sunday School will meet at 3:30 o'clock, as usual, at which time all officers and members are requested to be present.

DIED.

At his home in this city Friday evening, January 27th, JAMES HAL. BOATWRIGHT, in the 65th year of his age. Funeral service will be said at St. James' church Monday, January 30th, at 11 o'clock. Friends and acquaintances respectfully invited to attend. Interment Oakdale cemetery.

REPRESENTATIVE KELLUM HERE

New Hanover Member of Lower House of General Assembly to Spend Sunday at Home—Commission Bill.

Representative Woodus Kellum, of New Hanover, arrived home last evening from the General Assembly at Raleigh and will spend Sunday at home, returning this evening. Mr. Kellum is enthusiastic in his work in the Legislature and has already taken a prominent stand in the deliberations of that body.

Mr. Kellum was asked further particulars of the commission plan of government for Wilmington for which he has introduced a bill in the General Assembly. He says the bill is practically as published with the exception that the bill before becoming law must be adopted by the people at a special election to be held Saturday, February 25th. If the bill is adopted, and it is certain that it will be, then the primary for the nomination of commissioners, the two highest for each ward, to go on the official ticket, will be held on the second Tuesday before the regular city election on May 6th, when the commissioners receiving the highest vote in the city at large will be declared the duly elected councilmen from the several wards.

Mr. Kellum stated that in order to meet all requirements he has left the matter of salary in the discretion of the councilmen themselves, the bill providing a range of from $800 to $1,900 per year. He said that the bill did not require that the commissioners shall give all of their time to the position, as it seems the best opinion that a business administration would require business men to serve the city much in the capacity of directors of a bank or an industrial corporation and that the best business talent could not be secured at anything like a reasonable salary subject to the vicissitudes of politics.

The percentage of the vote for the "recall," he said, had been made 35 per cent., based upon the last election for Mayor in the regular city election, the percentage being made rather high for the present because the vote in the regular election (not the primary) was small and it was believed that a smaller percentage would defeat the purposes for which the recall is provided and would entail no end of confusion in the frequency of elections. Mr. Kellum stated that he had provided the very best bill possible for the city and he hoped that in its general terms, it would meet the wishes of all and that all could agree upon its provisions.

Asked about his bill conferring civil jurisdiction on the Recorder, Mr. Kellum stated that this official is given jurisdiction in tort to the extent of $200 and $500 on actions to recover on contract. The amendment also provides for jury trials in the Recorder's court, both in civil and criminal matters.

Referring to his position on the near-beer question, Mr. Kellum said: "I believe the people of Wilmington should ask the Legislature to give this city high license for saloons, segregation and strict regulations; in other words, local option." Asked if he believed that the Legislature would for a moment entertain such a proposition, Mr. Kellum replied that the people would never know unless they asked; that there could be no harm in trying. It is not known to what extent Mr. Kellum will push his opposition to the near-beer bill which is made the special order for one night this week, but it is believed that the Assembly, as did the committee, will sit squarely down upon any proposition to re-open the prohibition question at this session.

Negro Offered Resistance.

When Patrolman H. G. Bullard went to arrest Joe Johnson, colored, at Fourth and Brunswick streets, about 9 o'clock last night, for disorderly conduct, the negro began fighting the officer, who found it necessary to bring his club into play. The negro received a bruise on his forehead and was sent to the hospital, where he was given attention, and then was brought back to police headquarters. In the Recorder's Court tomorrow he will have to answer to the charge of resisting arrest, as well as disorderly conduct.

Takes Position in This City.

Mr. Paul Carraway, of Greensboro, has taken a position with the Wright Real Estate Agency and entered upon his new duties yesterday. Mr. Carraway was formerly with Mr. J. E. Latham, the well known cotton broker, of Greensboro, and is a young man of excellent business qualifications. He will receive a warm welcome to Wilmington. He is a nephew of Mr. C. N. Evans, president of the Southern National Bank.

A Card to Automobile Owners:

Having found it impracticable to run our Repair Department under separate roof from our Garage, and not being able at this time to procure a site properly located, that would accommodate both branches of the business, we have decided to lease our Repair Shop from and after February 1st, 1911, to Mr. L. B. Douglas.

Mr. Douglas comes to this city highly recommended as an automobile expert, with letters from the following Automobile Manufacturers, under whom he has served his time:

Pierce Arrow, Fiat, Renault.

In addition to the above, we are in a position to add that we have had an opportunity to judge Mr. Douglas' ability, since he has been in chare of the Shop under our management, and we unhesitatingly recommend him as a thoroughly efficient and capable automobile specialist; one of the strongest points in his favor being his capacity to quickly diagnose the trouble with your car, regardless of its make.

We lay special stress on this qualification, as it fills a "long felt want" in this community.

Mr. Douglas proposes to furnish a signed estimate of the cost of repairing any car, which will eliminate that old feeling that the repair bill is going to "eat me up!"

All work will be guaranteed to be done in a workmanlike manner, and to the satisfaction of the owner, before acceptance, and must be paidfor upon acceptance

For minor repairs made without contract, the charges will be 70c. per hour, machinist- and 30c. per hour, helper-time.

We respectfully solicit a continuance of the business given us for Mr. Douglas.

VERY QUIET DAY FOR COTTON

New Factors Now Awaited on the Market—One Point Lower to Two Points Higher. Features.

New York, Jan. 28.—The cotton market continued very quiet with fluctuations quiet and the close quiet, net 1 point lower to 2 points higher.

The opening was steady at an advance of 3 to 5 points and during the early trading there seemed to be a little demand from trade interests around the initial figures with very little offering for sale. The buying orders were gradually supplied, however, and later the market eased off from the best under scattering liquidation or local bear pressure. Closing prices were at practically the lowest point of the day. Cables were just about as due, a shade disappointing if anything and private advices from Liverpool continued to indicate a subsiding trade in Manchester with active demand from spinners, who are said to have become pretty well covered so far as raw material requirements are concerned, up to next May at any rate. Advices from the continent on the other hand were a little more encouraging, an improvement being reported in the margins of manufacturers in Germany, Russia and Belgium, although private cables from Russia claimed that trade there was poor. Reviews of the domestic dry goods situation read considerably better, increased activity and advices in the price of goods before reported, but the sales of print cloths at Fall River for the week were est'mated at very small figures and it was stated that curtailment both there and in the New Bedford mills is on the increase. Comparatively little news reached the market from the South, the week-end figures had been pretty well digested before the close of Friday and with trade advices conflicting, the inactivity of the market probably reflected a generally unchanged sentiment. Many local operators contend that the future course of prices will be largely determined by the character of the weather during the early planting season.

Receipts at the ports today 24,554 bales against 29,743 last week and 9,005 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 7,602 bales against 2,156 last year.

Spot closed quiet; middling uplands 14.90; middling gulf 15.15; sales 101 bales. Futures opened steady and closed quiet.

VERY DULL FOR COTTON.

Mail Advices Report Decrease in Liverpool—A Better Demand.

(Special Star Telegram.)

New York, Jan. 28.—About the dullest day of the season without a tendency in either direction. Mail advices from Liverpool report a decrease in the basis owing to the desire of holders with large stocks to dispose of cotton because of the cost of carrying. A better demand for some lines of cotton goods is reported on the basis of 14c. cotton. Market awaits some new factor to move it from its present level in either direction as present factors seem to have exhausted their influence.

GOOD DAY IN STOCK MARKET

Revival of Buying With Prices Fairly Active—Some Stocks Made Substantial Gains—Features. Yesterday.

New York, Jan. 28.—Revival of buying in lesser volume than attended the recent upward movement lifted today's stock market from its apathetic condition of the past few days.

Following an initial period of hesitation prices advanced moderately and the list became firm and fairly active, with substantial gains in Atchison, Northern Pacific, Canadian Pacific, Norfolk & Western and St. Paul. The usual market leaders, Union Pacific, Reading and United States Steel, were under pressure a greater part of the early session, although steel really moved to a new high level for this movement, in the course of the morning's operations. The weakest feature was Amalgamated Copper, which sold off materially on depression in coppers abroad due to continued reports of unfavorable conditions in the metal market. The stock made some recovery before the close, which was generally active and strong.

An enormous expansion of loans in the actual condition of the bank statement, amounting to $45,525,000, occasions little surprise, hence heavy transfers of loans were looked for in connection with last Tuesday's offerings of city bonds.

The unused equipment is now estimated at about 120,000 cars as against 107,000 cars two weeks ago. The bond market was firm. Total sales par value $1,942,000. United States government 3s and the 4s registered advanced 1-4 on the call on the week. Total sales for the day 241,900 shares.

It's Up To You

IF you don't want to stop drinking or using drugs—don't take the Keeley Cure, it would be just a waste of time and money.

But if you think that Whiskey or Drugs are standing in the way of your business success and destroying your family happiness—if you want to get back your old energy and vigor and ambition—and begin life anew where you left it before you began their use—come to the Keeley Institute at Greensboro.

In four to six weeks we will give you back the clear eye, the steady nerves and the vigor of health that you used to have. We will take away completely your unnatural appetite and leave you a free man again.

Then it's up to you! You can remain a free man, with little or no effort if you will, with all the joy and rich rewards of freedom. Or you can go back to your slavery—if it is the life of bondage that you prefer. All we do—all anyone can do—is to give you a fair start—put you even with the world. Then it's up to you.

ESCAPED CONVICT CAUGHT.

One of Trio That Got Away from Sing Sing Sing Carried Back.

Ossining, N. Y., Jan. 27.—One of the trio of convict musicians who escaped from Sing Sing late last night by knocking the guards into insensibility with musical instruments, was captured late today at Bedford station, fourteen miles north of the prison. He is Ralph Taylor, the "silk hat burglar," who was serving a 21-year-term. No trace of the others, one of whom was a murderer serving a life sentence, has been found. Taylor was captured by a policeman and showed no resistence.

He denied that there was any premeditated plot to escape and swore he knew nothing of the whereabouts of the others. Warden Frost, of Sing Sing, went to Bedford station tonight and brought Taylor back.

WICKERSHAM FIRES ATTORNEY.

Government Lawyer at New Orleans Criticised His Opinion.

New Orleans, Jan. 23.—Attorney General Wickersham has asked for the immediate resignation of United States District Attorney Charles R. Beatties of New Orleans, according to a special Washington dispatch printed in the Item today.

The action of the attorney general, it is said, was called forth by Mr. Beattie's public criticism of an opinion by Mr. Wickersham advising against an anti-trust prosecution which the district attorney had started.

The statement which the attorney general took exception to was given to the press by Mr. Beattie several weeks ago following an investigation by the Federal grand jury of charges that the New Orleans Clearing House Association by certain agreements as to exchange rates, violated the Sherman anti-trust law. No indictments were returned. Subsequently the district attorney gave out an interview in which he said that the attorney general was of the opinion that the agreement referred to did not constitute a violation of the law. He added that he did not agree with the opinion of Mr. Wickersham. Mr. Beattie refused to discuss the matter.

Philadelphia, Jan. 27.—The old United States cruiser Baltimore, left the Philadelphia navy yard today for Charleston, S. C., to become a receiving ship at the navy yard at that place. The Baltimore will take the place of the Texas which is soon to be made the target for warships at practice.

Washington, Jan. 27.—E. L. Russell, vice president of the Mobile Railroad, is critically ill at the hotel here with an attack of bronchitis. He became ill suddenly yesterday and though his condition was reported improved tonight, physicians are still in constant attendance upon him.

MOORE SPOKE ON WATERWAYS.

Talks of Atlantic Coastal Project—Progress of the South.

Baltimore, Jan. 26.—Railroad congestion in the East must result in better railroad or waterway transportation or we must fall behind the West in the commercial race, was the prediction of Congressman J. Hampton Moore, of Pennsylvania, at the annual dinner of the Merchants' & Manufacturers' Association here tonight.

Mr. Moore, who is the president of the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association, addressed the diners on the subject of "waterways." The Atlantic coastal project, Mr. Moore said, proposes one method of relief. It proposes to open up the inland waterways that link together the great cities of the coast and promises a certain development of the Southern coast country.

Representative S. H. Dent, Jr., of Alabama, spoke on the great progress of the South and explained in detail the system known as "peonage," touching the latter, he said that a misconception pervails among the many people in other sections of the country who suppose that peonage is generally practiced in the South, and that it is a covert effort to re-establish African slavery in that section He referred to the recent decision of the Supreme Court of the United States declaring invalid certain portions of an Alabama Statute, which made it a crime for a man to enter into a contract to perform services, obtain advances thereupon and then break the contract without just acuse. This law, he said, had been invoked by both white and negro employers.

"The negro race has made in some respects great advances, but there is a large shiftless, vagrant class among them. They are not responsible civilly in damages for a breach of contract and are destitute of any sense of moral obligation in respect of these contracts.

"If public sentiment upheld a peonage system, it would not be necessary to resort to legislation to meet conditions I have described. I am not criticising the decision of the court referred to, but I deplore that it should be made the pretext for the wholesale indictment of an honorable people."

Baron Hengelmuller, the Austro-Hungarian ambassador, spoke on "The Fluctuations of Public Opinion With Regard to Protection and Free Trade," treating his subject historically. Governor L. Crothers, of this State, and Mayor J. Barry Mahool, of Baltimore, were among the speakers.

COOK REGAINS CONFIDENCE.

Sure He Reached Pole—Has Doubts About Peary.

New York, Jan. 26.—After an interval of silence, Dr. Frederick A. Cook, the explorer, took the lecture platform again tonight and told the German-American Pioneer Club of Harlem, he is now more positive than ever that he reached the pole. Within his own bosom he said there is "the satisfying thump of success won at great cost;" but at he same time the geographical proof that any one man—himself or Commander Peary—stood at the exact pole can never be laid before the "arm chair geographers." The whole matter is still in doubt the doctor insists, except for his belief that he has as good if not better right to claim the pole than Peary, whom for the first time he now accuses in company with Peary's friends of forcing "by an organized effort a campaign to discredit my achievements." Hitherto the doctor has never mentioned that Peary reached the pole. Now he asks: "Is there any one sure shoulder upon which we can hang the mantle of polar conquest?"

Specifically attacking the accuracy of Peary's records, the doctor says they are in no better case than his own.

The doctor's conclusions is "I am bound to admit that all attempts at proof presented by figures is built on a foundation of possible and unknowable inaccuracy." He is confident, however, that after "sufficient conscientious thought," history will present a fair verdict on the polar claims.

DEBT CASE ARGUMENT ENDS.

Appeal for Justice for the Commonwealth of Virginia.

Washington, Jan. 26.—In an appeal for what he termed justice for the old commonwealth of Virginia, Randolph Harrison, of Lynchburg, Va., today closed the long oral argument before the Supreme Court of the United States over the apportionment between Virginia and West Virginia of the State debt at he time the latter was admitted into the Union.

"She asks only for justice," said Mr. Harrison, for Virginia, as he brought the argument to a close.

"West Virginia has no right to complain if justice is done. Justice has long been delayed. It is but right that the State of West Virginia, so prosperous probably the richest in the Union—should comply with the obligations which she made in being admitted into the family of States."

Muskogee, Ala., January 28.—Jack Johnson's recent declaration that the rapid advance of Carl Morris, "the white man's hope," is due to fake fights, drew a reply from Morris today, who agreed to give Johnson $10,000 if he could prove where he had ever faked a fight. To any one else he said he would give $1,000 for similar proof.

Saved Two Lives.

"Neither my sister nor myself might be living today, if it had not been for Dr. King's New Discovery" writes A. D. McDonald, of Fayetteville, N. C., R. F. D. No. 8, "for we both had frightful coughs that no other remedy could help. We were told my sister had consumption. She was very weak and had night sweats but your wonderful medicine completely cured us both. It's the best I ever used or heard of." For sore lungs, coughs, colds, hemorrhage, la grippe, asthma, hay fever, croup, whooping cough—all bronchial troubles—its supreme. Trial bottle free. 50c. and $1. Guaranteed by R. B. Bellamy.

A LOOKER-ON IN VENICE.

(Communicated.)

The readers of The Morning Star, not resident in the "Repiblic of New Hanover, must often find their faces wreathed in unconscious smiles at the unique controversies that spring like mush-rooms in a quagmire over almost every issue of local import. To illustrate my meaning by the incidents of one week—the week ending last night—let me give you a rapid, yea, a moving picture epidome of these incidents and the resulting consequences.

For good reasons, or no reasons; for noble or ignoble purposes; for the public weal or private advantage, the following citizens of "The Republic of New Hanover" paid their railroad fare to Raleigh and visited the only monument within the borders of our State to Sir Walter, who "fell down" trying to "make good" on Roanoke Island, namely: C. C. Covington, L. B. Rogers and W. B. Cooper.

Now, if they had paid their fares and stayed at home, they might have been considered extravagant, or forgetful; but having fully equipped themselves for the journey, and not having been adjudged civiliter mortuis by a court of proper jurisdiction, they had, as every one will admit, a perfect right to exploit themselves either to enlighten the committees of the General Assembly or to light into the banquet halls of the Governor's Mansion as they felt themselves equipped for the one duty or the other.

To paraphrase that veni-vidi expression but in somewhat inverted order; They went, (maybe) they conquered and they came which they had perfect liberty to do.

If that meddlesome old gossip, Madam Comment, had kept her mouth closed, no explanation would have been necessary and the general public could have gone on dreaming the hours away without a thought that the delliberations of our Legislators by the presence of the citizens of the "Republic of New Hanover" had become a turbulent sea of confused agitation and the banquet hall of the State White House was properly "full" from the invitations sent out.

Sed Triste Dictu! The News and Observer misquoted Mr. Covington by a mile and this lapsus-typo by the Observer furnishes the base for Mr. Covington to be joked up by a Furlong.

Then, as if the arena be not already full enough, that matchless reasoner and writer than whom I know none more cogent and facile, Mr. J. Allen Taylor, punctures the controversy with cruel javelins; but he did not expose the milk in the cocoanut.

To our boys and young men, and I speak advisedly, the dope handed out by "Near-beer" places is decidedly more injurious than the pure liquid of nature's cereals and fruits. L. A. B.

PROGRESS IN GEORGIA.

Gross Receipts of Railroads Increase of $3,500,000.

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 27.—Gross receipts of the railroads operating in Georgia for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1910, were $44,275,186, according to reports given out at the office of the railroad commission today. This is an increase of more than $3,500,000 over the gross receipts of the banner year 1907, and more than $4,769,000 over last year. Increasing prosperity throughout the State the result of splendid crops is given as the cause of the remarkable showing by the railroads.

Jacksonville, Fla., January 28.—The wrecked steamer Chatham, formerly of the Merchants' anu Miners' line, which went on the rocks at the end of the North jetties, at the bar, was blown up by the United States engineer's office this afternoon to clear the channel.

IMPORTANT MUNICIPAL BILLS

Carolina Association Presents Two of Exceptional Merit—Working Roads and Streets—Commission Plan.

Two bills of exceptional interest and importance to the towns and cities of the State have recently been prepared and introduced in the General Assembly under the auspices of the Carolina Municipal Association, copies of same having been received by Capt. T. D. Meares, the secretary, from the Legislative Committee.

One of the measures is "A Bill to be Entitled an Act for the Equal Working of the Public Highways" and its full text is as follows:

"The General Assembly of North Carolina Do Enact:

Section 1. That the Board of Commissioners, the Board of Control, the Board of Trustees, or other body having control of the public highways, and upon which the duty lies to expend public taxes levied and collected for public roads in any county, township, or taxing district of the State of North Carolina, shall work, improve, grade and otherwise construct all the public thoroughfares and bridges, which it may be their duties to build and construct; and where such thoroughfares go into an incorporated city or town, the same shall be worked, graded, built and maintained, so as to make a complete system of highways and thoroughfares passing into and through such cities and towns. So that the people of the whole district shall have complete and continuous thoroughfares worked with the public funds, provided for the same, through the country and into and through the cities and towns, within such district as fully and completely as if the cities and towns did not exist, and were not incorporated.

PROVIDED, however, that when working a thoroughfare into or through a city or town, the Board of Control, Trustees, Commissioners, or other board in authority, and having the duty of constructing and maintaining and providing for public highways, shall have due regard to the needs of the highways, within any municipal corporation, wherein they are bound to construct, maintain and repair highways, and within the limit of such cities, and towns, they shall construct the highways, in a manner to conform to the general plan of working the streets of such cities, and towns, so as to provide against the increased wear and tear of the larger traffic and in conformity with the requirements of such city or town authorities.

PROVIDED, further that no street originating and ending within the said municipal corporation shall be worked by the said Board of Control; and further provided, that the said Board of Control by whatever name known, shall not expend the fund raised by taxation for road purposes, within the corporate limits of said city or town, which does not contribute for such taxes, as other parts of such county, township or district.

Section 2. That in all ceses where taxes are levied by any county or township, for road or bridge purposes, the street and bridges of any incorporated town, situated therein, shall be part of the road system of such county or township, and shall receive a proportional share in the labor and funds raised for such purposes; and the labor of convicts sentenced to work upon the public roads of the county, shall be used within such town or towns, as in other portions of the county, PROVIDED, that all work done within such town limits, and all funds expended therin, shall be under the direction and control of the proper town authorities.

Section 3. That all laws or parts of laws in conflict with this law, are hereby repealed.

The Charter Bill.

Of equal importance is "A Bill to be Entitled an Act to Authorize Cities to Amend and Frame Their Own Charters," the commission form plan for general adoption by the people after its constitutionality shall have been passed upon by the Attorney General. The full text of the bill is as follows:

"The General Assembly of North Carolina do enact:

Section 1. That all incorporated towns within the State may amend, form and adopt Charters for their own government in the manner hereinafter provided.

Section 2. That the Commissioners appointed of any town or city within the State may propose a Charter or amendment to any existing Charter and upon the petition of qualified voters of said city or town, equal in number to twenty-five per cent of those who voted at the last regular election, proposing such charter or amendment, shall submit the same to the Attorney General, and the same shall be returned by him with his approval, unless it shall violate the Constitution or laws of the State or of the United States. If he shall find same in any respect inconsistent with such constitution or laws, he shall so report. If the Attorney General shall approve the charter or amendment and it shall be changed in the particulars specified by him, then the aldermen or commissioners shall cause such proposal to be published for at least twenty days in one or more newspapers having a general circulation within the city or town, or make general distribution thereof in pamphlet form as may be most practical. They shall name a day within thirty days after such completed publication when such proposed charter or amendment shall be voted on by the qualified voters of the city, which shall be called and held in conformity with the law governing other elections in such city or town, so far as the same may be applicable and in other respects as the commissioners or aldermen may provide. In submitting such propsal any alternate charter or proposition may be presented for the choice of the voters and may be voted on separately without prejudice to other provisions, and if a majority of the qualified voters of the city or town shall ratify the same, it shall become effective as the charter or amendment thereof upon the official declaration of the result of such election. Copies of such charter shall be certified to by the mayor and city clerk to the Secretary of State and the Clerk of the Superior Court of the county within which the city or town is situated, to be filed and recorded by them in their respective offices in books provided for that purpose and shall be taken judicial notice of by the courts, as in the case of the charters granted by the legislature.

Section 3. That the tax limitation in all such charters shall be one dollar on the $100.00 assessed valuation of taxable property within the city or town, but any charter may provide for the imposition of taxes at a rate in excess thereof,, upon submission to the qualified voters of the city or town, in cases now permitted by law, except as otherwise provided in this act. Such charters may disregard the equation between poll and property taxes anm may abrogate the poll tax; Provided, that nothing herein contained shall have effect to repeal ty taxes and may abrogate the poll granted any city or town to impose special taxes in excess of the constitutional or statutory limitations, nor to invalidate any tax laid thereunder.

Section 4. That it shall not be permissable under this act for any charter to authorize and it shall not be competent for any city or town by submission to vote or otherwise than by express legislative authority to pledge the credit of the city or town for other than muncipal purposes, nor to create any indebtedness for any purpose in excess of ten per cent. of the assessed valuation of taxable property within the city, nor to extend the corporate limits of the city or town.

Section 5. That all incorporated cities and towns within the State shall have police and sanitary jurisdiction for one mile outside the corporate limits in every direction, and may make and enforce regulations in respect thereto in as full and ample manner in all respects as if such territory were within such corporate limits.

Section 6. That elections as hereinbefore provided shall not be held oftener than once in any one year.

Section 7. That this act shall be in force from and after its ratification.

SOCIETY AT PINEHURST.

Mid-Winter Tennis—Fox Hunting and Other Pleasant Diversions.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Pinehurst, N. C., Jan. 28.—Society turned out in force to enjoy the first annual Mid-Winter Tennis tournament, transferring the County Club balconies which overlook the courts, into a kaleidoscope of bright color, the buzz of conversation ceasing only during exciting play to burst forth in enthusiastic applause. Rare January days have also popularized other out-door sports, the novelty of the week being a moonlight fox hunt which attracted a large number of riders among them several of the fairer sex. The night was perfection and the fun began early with snappy trailing. Shortly after the pack was in full cry and a race to the death was on. A mad one it proved for reynard seemed to enjoy the novelty and laid out for distance before a long series of circles and doubles At mid-night the situation had changed but little and the hunters turned homeward leaving Master Twitty and Huntsmen Nat in a pursuit which lasted until the first gray streaks of dawn heralded the kill. In recent hunts brushes have been won by Mr. R. W. Cauchois and Miss Therese Browning, of New York; Miss Henrietta Thaw, of Pittsburg, and Miss Hazel Shannon and Mr. Albert Delaplante, of Buffalo, who dismounted from his horse and plunged into a creek in which the fox was swimming when the hounds caught him. The social side of golf is showing itself in various mixed four-somes matches with plans for tournaments of this character and the usual events of the Silver Foils, the women's golfing club.

Socially the week has been one of dinners, dancing and bridge. Mr. and Mrs. Guy Metcalf, of Providence, entertained at dinner at The Carolina in honor of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. King, of New Canton, Conn., the guests including Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Tufts, of Boston; Miss Alice Presbrey and Miss Ethel Check, of New York; Miss Mary Fownes, of Pittsburg; Miss Lucy Priest, of Portsmouth, and Messrs. F. A. King, of Northboro; L. D. Pierce, of Rochester, Vt.; N. S. Hurd, of Pittsburg; Robert O'Gorman, of Newark, and H. M. Popham, of New York. Wednesday evening Mr. F. A. King, of Northboro, entertained the same group and also Mr. and Mrs. Justus Kendale, of Lewiston, and Dr. Myron W. Marr, of Dorchester.

NEEDS OF THE UNIVERSITY

Momorial to General Assembly Endorsed at Meeting of Committee From Board of Trustees in Raleigh.

To the Honorable the General Assembly of North Carolina:

The undersigned, a committe appointed by the Governor in accordance with a resolution adopted by the Board of Trustees of the University, respectfully present the following memorial:

For a number of years the patronage of the University has outstripped the means at its disposal. This is the result of the success of the State's effort to promote the cause of education through the system of which the University is the head. To withhold the requisite means now, if possible to provide it, would be equivalent to declaring that success is not desired.

While the uses and value of education have increased in an unprecedented degree in all parts of the country during the past ten years, it is probable that nowhere has this feature of modern life been so marked as in our own State, where the change has amounted to a revolution. At the same time the surplus wealth of the State has increased in like proportion. It cannot be said, therefore, that the success of the State's effort in behalf of the University, put forth in the time of poverty, has overcropped her ability now.

We assume that you are fully in sympathy with our purpose, and that you will be able to provide for its requirements. While it is not our province to discuss the details of the means by which you will accomplish this end. We think that we may with propriety record our unqualified opinion that the issue of bonds for the permanent improvements required at the University, the same being in the nature of an investment, will be eminently judicious and economical, and will meet with the approval of the people.

Ten years ago the number of students at the University was 512, and the number who could be provided for in the University's dormitories was 220. For the year ending August 15, 1910, the number of students was 821, and the number who could be provided for in the University's dorditories was 370.

As the number of available rooms in the village of Chapel Hill has been exhousted, it is plain that, from consideration of this condition alone, the time has arrived when the University must bar its doors against a further increase in the number of students. On this point the report of the president, Doctor Venable, for the past year, says:

"I have repeatedly drawn attention to the fact that the dormitories of the University can accommodate only 370 students, and also that these dormitories, some of which are over one hundred years old, are in need of repair. Furthermore, the dining halls can seat only about 300. Most of the students are therefore forced to live in such rooms as they can secure in the town. Under the great demand nearly everything that can be called a room is rented, and the sanitary and other control of these quarters is outside of the powers of the University. I doubt whether any State in the Union makes such provision for its sons who seek education at its chief seat of learning. I hesitate to say this, but I believe the people should know the facts.

"It is perfectly clear that the present dormitories should be put in thorough repair and other dormitories erected so that at least 500 of the student body may be taken care of in the University buildings. This is imperative, and further increase in the number in attendance is unwise and, indeed, impracticable, until it is done. Also, a thoroughly modern dining hall for not less than 400 students must be built. On this the health of the students and a reasonable economy in their living largely depend."

Upon the subject of the need for an increased income the President's report says:

"The excess of expenditures over income for the current session will possibly reach $9,000 or $10,000. Every effort has been made to keep the expenditures down, but the cost of maintaining the plant and caring for so large an institution is very heavy, and the income is simply insufficient. Besides, if more students are to be admitted more teachers must be employed. One of two courses must be taken immediately, as the University cannot carry a growing debt. Either the income must be increased by further appropriations or a policy of retrenchment (at the expense of efficiency) must be inaugurated by cutting down the number of the faculty and limiting the number of students—a disastrous policy both for the University and the State. If the State does not come to the relief of the University, I must ask the trustees to meet as soon as possible to begin the latter policy."

Upon the subject of the value of the University as an investment, the president's report says:

"It is well for me to call attention again to the University as a business investment on the part of the State. Let us consider it solely from the financial side, talking no account of the great educational work of the University, which is beyond computation in dollars and cents. In this estimate I am justified in leaving out of account the aggergate annual appropriations for support, as the State has received a magnificent return for them and they would be far more than offset by the annual receipts from tuition, etc.

"Value of plant and invested funds $1,023,000. Total special appropriations by the State in 115 years, $197,000; leaving $826,000.

"The State, therefore, holds property worth $826,000 more than it has ever put into it."

From a careful examination of all the facts in connection with the needs of the University we are of the opinion that the annual appropriation by the State for maintenance should be raised from $75,000 to $100,000; and that for permanent improvements not less than $500,000 should be appropriated, as follows:

Dormitories	$100,000
Dining Hall	40,000
Reservoir and filtering plant	30,000
Repairs	25,000
Enlargement of chapel	10,000
Physical laboratory	50,000
Geological laboratory	35,000
Medical laboratories	60,000
Recitation building	50,000
Pharmaceutical laboratory	25,000
Teachers' building	50,000
Law building	35,000
Indebtedness	18,500
	$528,500

It is known to many who travel beyond the borders that, among thoughtful and intelligent men of the great world, the University of North Carolina is regarded as the State's chief asset. Its venerable age, the illustrious career of many of its alumni, the high standard of its teaching and the high grade of its faculty as men and scholars, notwithstanding the poverty of its resources, all these combine to attract attention abroad. Indeed, North Carolina's record in the war, and her University—which played such a large part in that achievement—are the two possessions of the State to which her sons away from home chiefly point with pride. It would be lamentable if we should allow reaction to set in at this crisis in the University's career.

We submit herewith the report of the president of the University for December, 1910, marked "Exhibit A"; the same for December, 1909, marked "Exhibit B"; and the same for 1901, marked "Exhibit C". We ask special attention to the President's reference to the losses in the faculty, which the University is constantly suffering, by reason of the superior inducements offered by other universities in the way of compensation.

We have the honor to be,

Your obedient servants,
E. J. HALE, Chairman.
W. A. GUTHRIE,
R. A. DOUGHTON,

H. A. GILLIAM,
Committee.

At a meeting of the trustees on January 17th, in the Governor's office at Raleigh, the above memorial was endorsed and ordered published for distribution.

A TALK WITH STENOGRAPHERS

Those Who Dictate to Them Might Make Their Work Much Easier—Some Suggestions and Lessons.

(Christian Science Monitor.)

The opportunities for women in the business world today are better than ever before. If women are to succeed in their efforts and undertakings in fields hitherto new, it will be necessary for them to give much more attention to fitting themselves for the positions they aim to fill than has hertofore been done.

The young girl of the present time has much to learn before she can be considered "valuable" in a first-class and up-to-date business house. It requires study along many lines and the application of both tact and common sense to fill successfully even the position of stenographer with a big, busy concern of these days.

Besides the necessary attention to mental training and equipment for a business vocation a young woman should give careful consideration to her appearance and deportment. The quietly and tastefully attired woman is much to be commended. Dignity in manners and dress is invaluable and acts as a safeguard for the young woman in the business world.

One hears much adverse criticism by certain classes of dictators, to the effect that "the average stenographer does not know anything." This sweeping assertion is made quite frequently by a particular type of man, and to the tried and experienced stenographer it sometimes seems to contain a great deal of truth. In fact, it is often a matter of wonder to her just why these disgruntled and much troubled dictators prefer to employ an incompetent stenographer when they might get one who is efficient and able by being fairly reasonable and paying a living wage, writes Rachel West Clement in the New York Press.

By this is meant having some consideration for the person who sits at the typewriter; dictating plainly and working systematically in the morning hours when possible, instead of expecting her to be a "machine" that will work indefinitely.

Fortunately the seasoned stenographer has met with many fine and noble men in business, who believe in "a square deal" for the stenographer. Otherwise she might feel like saying, with an equal show of truth, that "the average dictator is a selfish, ill-mannered individual," who usually has some of the following customs:

He probably has the habit of walking up and down the room while dictating, so that the stenographer often loses much of what he says. The request to repeat frets him, so that she has to struggle on, trying to guess at the small words he has swallowed as he strides about the office.

If he has not the walking habit, he sits with his back to the stenographer, who tries to ascertain whether he said "an" or "and," "it" or "if," "in" or "on," etc., to the end of the dictation. And if asked to read it back instantly, she is in great doubt as to the sense of what she has taken.

There is another type of dictator, the man who does not know what he wants to say. He launches out well with: "I am in receipt of your favor of the first instant and in reply would say—" then a dead stop. Every idea seems to have left his head. He flounders around for words, beginnings over and over, changing and repeating, until it is all a hopeless tangle. When he can go no further, in desperation he shouts: "Read that back to me!" and as the stenographer's page shows mostly an indistinguishable mass of scratches, insertions and corrections, it is impossible to get hold of anything with sense enough to read back.

Very few people will admit that they dictated what the stenographer reads back to them. A good way for a man who thinks he never makes a mistake in dictation is to dictate into a phonograph.

But, to be done with complaint, there are in business a great many generous, reasonable men for whom it is a joy and an education to work. They pay an equivalent in money for services rendered. It has been said that we get what we pay for. This is not always true, but in stenography it mostly is. A good stenographer is worthy of her hire. She should not be expected to do the impossible. A man should give some thought to his dictation, his articulation, and he might at least turn his face to the stenographer and talk plainly.

PUBLIC PLAY GROUNDS.

Evolution of Towns Into Cities Brings New Problems.

The Charlotte Observer says editorially:

"But one city in the Carolnas has more than 50,000 population and only three others exceed 25,000. On the other hand, there are quite a number of towns ranging from the latter figure down to 4,000 or 5,000 which may confidently look for extended growth during the next decade. During this period of emergencies into the city type these towns will do well to look carefully into how they are growing, as well as how fast. Certain public improvements are comparatively easy to secure before the community has been closely built up, but become ncreasingly difficult as the population increases. Among the most important of these matters is the subject of public play grounds for the children.

"On Saturday a large and convenient playground was opened in the city of Spartanburg, largely as a result of the efforts of the civic league, and on Monday a charter was issued to a Greensboro organization which has a similar end in view. It is not too soon for communities smaller to begin work on the idea. As long as there are vacant lots available by the half dozen the matter is not pressing, but when these vacant lots one after another are taken up for building purposes it becomes a serious question as to how sufficient room is to be found for the recreations of the younger generation. We hope that the excellent example of Spartanburg and Greensboro will find many imitators."

GAVE LIFE FOR CHILD'S.

Both Were Caught in Shafting of Cotton Gin, and Killed.

Reidsville, Ga., January 25.—Trying in vain to save the life of her 11-year-old daughter, whose clothing was caught in the shafting of a cotton gin, Mrs. J. R. Wilkes sacrificed her own life and that of her six months' old baby today near Elsa, this county. The little girl screamed for aid, as she felt herself being drawn towards the machinery, and her mother sprang to aid her. She, too, was caught, and the baby in her arms was hurled against the floor and killed instantly. The mother and daughter died soon after being torn from the shafting.

WEEK'S INDUSTRIAL REVIEW

Development of 8,000 Acres of Land Opposite Chattanooga—Cotton and Textile Enterprises in the South.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Baltimore, Jan. 26.—Among the announcements of Southern industrial and other developmental enterprises in this week's issue of the Manufacturers' Record are the following:

Chattanooga Estates Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., is being organized with $6,000,000 capital stock to develop 8,000 acres of Hamilton county land, on the Tennessee river, opposite Chattanooga, for industrial purposes in connection with the extensive mining and manufacturing plans of the Durham Coal & Iron Company, the $10,000,000 corporation of which particulars were announced several weeks ago; access from Chattanooga to the 8,000 acres will be facilitated by the construction of two bridges, one costing $325,000 and the other costing $375,000, of which there will be furnished $75,000 on each bridge by Charles B. Eddy and Hallgarten & Co., of New York; C. E. James, of Chattanooga, and others who organized the Durham Company and are planning the Chattanooga Estates Company.

Castle Cotton Mills, Monticello, Ga., organized with $100,000,000 capital stock to build a plant of 50,000 spinning spindles, 5,000 twister spindles, 1,200 looms, etc., driven by 5,000 electrical horsepower.

Jacksonville Electric Co., Jacksonville, Fla., plans the construction of a power plant and piefs to cost about $450,000; details will soon be determined.

Truckers' Crate & Barrel Co., Savannah, Ga., has organized with $200,000 capital stock to manufacture patented machinery and will organize subsidiary companies throughout the South to use this machinery in manufacturing barrels and crates.

Quinton Coal & Brick Co., Quinton, Okla., was incorporated with $600,000 capital stock to develop 6,000 acres of coal and shale land and erect a vitrified brick plant costing $16,000.

Peden Iron & Steel Co., Houston, Tex., increased capital stock from $500,000 to $1,000,000 to extend trade and provide additional warehouse facilities.

Southwestern Telephone & Telegraph Co., Houston, Tex., is planning to invest $600,000 for 1911 improvements, including the $400,000 main exchange building heretofore announced.

Yorktown Chemical Works, Yorktown, Va., was chartered with $300,000 capital stock by New York parties.

Morris Iron Works, Frederick, Md., completed organization and will triple size of plant, the improvements to include erecting a main building containing more than 61,000 feet of floor space.

Southern Fruit Products Co., Benton, Ark., was incorporated with 100,000 capital stock to manufacture cider, vinegar, etc.

Southern Turpentine & Wood Pulp Co., Macon, Ga., was chartered with $600,000 capital stock to manufacture various wood pulp products, using a new patented process.

Dixon Metallic Hose Co., Houston, Texas, was incorporated with $200,000 capital stock to manufacture metallic hose.

American Barrel Co., Savannah, Ga., is planning to establish a factory costing $100,000.

American Wagon Co., Asheville, N. C., was organized with $50,000 capital stock and will build vehicle works.

The American Mill & Warehouse Co., Stuttgart, Ark., was organized with $75,000 capital stock to build rice mill and warehouse.

O. F. Janes, Chattanooga, Tenn., purchased 15,000 acres of Dade county, Ga., iron and timber lands and plans development in connection with other properties.

Allgood Hosiery Mills Co., Vaughan, N. C., was incorporated with $12,000 capital stock to manufacture hosiery.

American Cattle Guard Co., New Orleans, was incorporated with $100,000 capital stock to manufacture cattle guards.

Charlotte Steam Laundry, Charlotte N. C., has plans for the construction of a fireproof building to cost $30,000; modern steam laundry machinery will be installed.

LAWS FOR AVIATORS.

California Already Making Statutes for Birdmen—Carry Lights.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

New York, N. Y., Jan. 28.—Out in California, where aviation is the great Winter attraction, both for native sons and visitors seeking a genial clime, and where Glenn H. Curtiss is training navy and army officers, and Eugene Ely is flying to and from Uncle Sam's battleship as a morning diversion, they are making laws to govern the birdmen.

The first bills governing aerial highways have been introduced in the California legislature at Sacremento by Assemblymen Fitzgerald, in the Assembly, and by Senator Wolfe, in the Senate. They were prepared under the guidance of the Pacific Aero Club at San Francisco, and provide first for the designation of aeroplanes as "motor vehicles," the registering of such vehicles with the Secretary of State and the taking out of a license number, to be displayed as on the automobile.

The bills also contain a clause regarding the carrying of lights. It is provided that all aeroplanes shall carry "at least four lights, one in the center of the vehicle in front of the driver, one a the extreme rear, and one at each end of the lifting planes, thes last two to be, one red and one green, the red light to be placed at the end of the right plane, and the green at the end of the left plane."

It would seem that the legislators of California take it for granted that the type of the everyday air vehicles will be the bi-plane, judging by the arrangements of the lights.

But these bills are not the only proposed legislation. The shooting clubs in California are urging legislation to govern shooting game from aeroplanes. They fear that the birdmen will chase the feathered tribe off their preserves, and make shooting from the ground more difficult than it is now.

SPRING CARNIVAL.

Celebration in Texas Commemorating Battle of San Jacinto.

San Antonio, Texas, January 28.—The Annual Spring Carnival and Battle of Flowers the week of April 21st, commemoarting the battle of San Jacinto, when Texas pioneers broke the Mexican power for all time, promises to be the greatest gala week in the history of this city and Southwest Texas. This annual pageant is quite as great in every particular as the Veiled Prophets of Saint Louis or the famous Mardi Gras of New Orleans. The Battle of Flowers, which is always the great feature of this carnival, takes place each year in front of the historic Alamo, thus commemorating teh heroic deeds of those who died to the last man in the battle that took place there March 26, 1836.

Preparations for this coming demonstration are on a greater scale this year than ever before. All branches of business are contributing to make this the greatest carnival in the history of Texas. Thousands of dollars have been turned into the hands of the committee, and a veritable stream of money continues to pour in, insuring there will be no lack of cash to finance the broadened plans already made. Heretofore, from 50,000 to 100,000 visitors from all parts of the tate have spent carnival week in San Antonio. This year indications are to the effect that this number will be very much increased, reservations at various hotels indicating this.

NEW CONSTRUCTION TYPE.

Terra Cotta Now Being Used for Railroad Stations.

New York, Jan. 28.—Six terra cotta railroad stations have been built recently by the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company.

They represent a new departure in station construction. The basic material is the hollow terra cotta block, which has passed through a heat of 2,000 degrees Fahrenheit in process of manufacture and is absolutely fireproof. The surface of the walls is a cement stucco, so that the blocks are not visible after the building is completed.

The fireproof stations now completed are at Cortland, Interlaken, Freeville, Milan, East Waverly and Honeoye Falls, all in New York State. The same material was also used in the freight station at South Bethlehem, Pa.

The high price of lumber is largely responsible for the company's use of terra cotta. Now that the original cost of non-fireproof construction is so much greater than it used to be, a fireproof building is more economical in the end.

FOLEY KIDNEY PILLS.

Are tonic in action, quick in results. A special medicine for all kidney and bladder disorders. Mary C. Abbott, Wolfeboro, N. H., says: "I was afflicted with a bad case of rheumatism, due to uric acid that my kidneys failed to clear out of my blood. I was so lame in my feet, joints, and back that it was agony for me to step. I used Foley Kidney Pills for three days when I was able to get up and move about and the pains were all gone. This great change in condition I owe to Foley Kidney Pills and recommend them to any one suffering as I have." Robert R. Bellamy.

USE OF LIGHT WINES.

Writer in World Almanac Discusses Eating and Drinking.

(From the World Almanac for 1911.)

A writer on the Art of Living has said:: "A meal without wine is like bread without butter; it is worse than that—it is no meal at all." In fact no meal is complete without some kind of beverage, whether it be tea, coffee, or wine.

There is no doubt that the American people have more and better food than any other people in the world. Therefore, every American family should have some wine not only in the house, but wine every day on the table, otherwise the daily meal is incomplete. If you do not think so you should see how millions of people in Europe live; how even the poorest peasant in France and Italy has his bottle of cheap light wine with his humble meal. What the European peasant and workman can drink and enjoy with his dinner we centainly should have in this country.

It is a mistake for us to regard wine as a luxury, as some of us do, because we think we must pay a high price for it. There is plenty of good, pure wine made in the United States, and it can be bought at such a price that almost everyone can afford to drink a little wine with their meals. For example, you can buy a good, sound table wine, such as Claret, Burgundy, etc., for 50 to 75 cents per gallon, and that will make the cost only 15 to 20 cents per quart, which makes the wine cheaper than most other beverages, for even many mineral waters cost more than wine.

The question is often asked: "Where can I get good wine?" You can get good wine at any reliable place. You can buy it at the grocery and department stores, and at all the better class family liquor stores. You can buy wine by the bottle, or you can buy it by the gallon and bottle it off yourself.

Again, some people ask: "What is the best kind of wine?" There are three classes of wines—dry or sour wines, sweet wines, and sparkling wines, or champagnes. The first kind are called "dry" because the sugar has been fermented out, and, as they are light in alcohol, they are usually regarded as the most natural and desirable for every-day consumption. Thus the dry wines, such as claret, are used at meals, generally diluted with a little water. American champagne is just as good as the imported and half the cost.

Wine taken in moderate quantities with the meals is of great benefit to most people in aiding digestion and assimilation. In fact, wine has a food value and is an actual item of food; for example, in Europe people use wine in place of meat, which they do not often get; and the food value of wine is proved by the simple fact that the wine-drinking workingmen of Europe are strong and healthy, and they do as hard a day's work as the workingmen of this or any other country.

If you once "get the habit" of taking a little wine with your meals you will miss it when wine is not on the table. You do not know until you try it how much light wine aids digestion, how it helps the assimilation of food, and how it adds to the enjoyment of your whole meal.

BILLBOARDS TO TEACH.

20,000 Colored Posters to be Displayed in Next Three Months.

New York, N. Y., January 28.—During the next three months, the billboards of the United States will display 20,000 educational posters on tuberculosis, according to the announcement made today by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis.

This will conclude the campaign begun a year ago, when the National Billposters' Association donated free space to the tuberculosis cause, the Poster Printers' Association offered free printing, and nine paper manufacturers gave the paper for the posters. The combined value of these several donations for this three-month campaign is nearly $100,000.

The posters are in six different designs and are all printed in three colors. They are 7 feet wide and 9 feet high. Already nearly 2,500 of these posters have been hung on the billboards of 46 different cities, and it is planned to distribute 20,000 more before April 1st, in over 400 towns and cities. Any anti-tuberculosis society in the United States may receive free of charge, except for transportation, as many of these posters as can be hung on the boards in its territory. The National Association with the Tuberculosis Committee of the National Billposters and Distributors are conducting the campaign.

The posters show in graphic form how fresh air, good food and rest, cure tuberculosis; how bad air, overwork, and closed windows lead to consumption; and how the careless consumptive menaces the health of his family, by spitting on the floor.

GOLF AT PINEHURST.

Several Interesting Tourneys Scheduled for February.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Pinehurst, N. C., Jan. 28.—February inauguartes the larger of the Winter's golf tournaments of which the seventh annual St. Valentine's meeting on February 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11, is the first. The entrance will not be less than 150 and six regular divisions and not less than two special divisions are provided for with a gold medal for the best qualification score and cups for the match play division winners and runners-up and the consolation division winners.

For the week following on the 15, 16, 17 and 18, the fifth annual St. Valentine's golf tourney for women is scheduled.

Men's singles tennis are booked for the coming week and the weekly handicap trap shooting tournaments also begin.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

VACCINATION IN ENGLAND.

Rev. Thos. B. Gregory Writes Interesting Article in New York Paper.

The following article on "Vaccination in England," which appeared January 23rd, by Rev. Thos. B. Gregory, will be read with interest:

"This one hundred and twelve years ago, vaccination for smallpox began in England, and it was at once demonstrated that the fell destroyer was no more to be dreaded. Jenner had conquered it and the monster lay at the great man's feet meek and submissive as a whipped spaniel. Napoleon declared that the English doctor was the greatest man and noblest benefactor on earth, and informed him that he was prepared to grant him any favor within his power.

"The terrible scourge known as smallpox is said to have entered Europe from the East with the Saracens about the year 800, and from Europe it was carried to America. Its ravages were fearful. About the middle of the eighteenth century two millions perished by it in Russia alone. In England and France it swept away whole communities, numbering its victims by the hundreds of thousands. It devastated Germany and the Netherlands and the Scandinavian countries, and threatened to depopulate the whole European continent. Even under normal conditions, when there were no regular epidemics, the dread disease claimed a large percentage of the deaths. It was worse than war and famine combined. It attacked the pauper in his hovel and the king in his palace, and in its demonaic fury laughed at the poor humanity it was torturing and destroying.

"So soon after Jenner's discovery was put to the practical test it vindicated itself unequivocally and completely, and the world drew a long breath of relief. Smallpox was no longer to be feared. The remedy for its ravages was thereafter to be ready to hand with every medical practioner in the world, and at the slightest warning of approaching danger it was to be possible easily and quickly to avert it.

"Napoleon was right. Jenner was in every truth the 'greatest of men and the noblest of benefactors.' He has probably saved more lives and contributed more largely to the sum of human happiness than any other man who was born of woman."

FINES FOR HARD LUCK STORIES.

At Pinehurst They Cost From 25 Cents to Two Dollars.

The most amusing side play of the Advertising Men's golf tournament at Pinehurst, N. C., was the fines imposed on those who were only too willing to play their matches over again to unwilling listeners. All such were promptly escorted to the following bulletin, inconspicuously pasted in the Country Club house:

NOTICE!

Anyone caught describing his or his opponent's play will be fined per hole:
25 CENTS.

General hard luck stories (if contracted for at space rates in advance) are $1.00.

Complete grouches,
$2.00.

We have troubles of our own; tell yours to the Marines by wireless.

Please pay up and shut up!

Needless to say, a goodly fund was accumulated which goes to the long-suffering attendants who have so patiently listened and so tactfully sympathized in the past.

NEW BROOM FOR GOVERNOR.

Confederate Veteran Tells Hooper About His Significance.

Knoxville, Jan. 27.—A Confederate veteran who declares he voted for Gov. B. W. Hooper, has sent the Governor a new broom, accompanied by the following letter:

"To Gov. B. W. Hooper, Nashville, Tenn.—Dear Sir: I am seventy years old and the Confederate veteran who voted for you in the last election. I present you with this broom. The red straws represent the blood of Senator Carmack, united with three green strands, representing the fusion forces of the Republicans, Independents and Prohibition parties. Will you please accept it and use it to sweep the dust of the 'machine' from the corridors of the State Capitol? Very respectfully.

RHEUMATISM

WEAK KIDNEYS & THIN BLOOD

Not only is the blood the great nourishing source of our systems, but equally as important is its work of removing the waste of oxodized tissues which have been consumed in force and bodily heat. This waste is filtered out through the kidneys. When, however, the kidneys become weak and unable to perform their regular duties, the waste is allowed to remain in the circulation, soon forming uric acid which destroys the greater portion of nourishing elements of the blood and leave it weak and acrid. This imperfect blood deposits into the different muscles and joints the uratic impurity with which it is contaminated. Then the pains and aches of Rheumatism commence. The gritty formation which uric acid causes collects in the joints and produces the aches and stiffness which always accompany the disease. Likewise the muscles are coated and lose their elasticity, while the continual irritation to the nerves produces swelling and inflammation of the flesh.

S. S. S. cures Rheumatism in the only way it is possible to overcome the disease; it cleanses the blood of all uric acid poison and strengthens the kidneys so they are enabled to properly filter out the waste. S. S. S. is not only the best of blood purifiers, but a fine tonic. Book on Rheumatism free to all who write.

M., motors 75 miles across country to the opening of the Roosevelt dam, which will bring several million acres under irrigation. Sleeps at the town of Roosevelt. March 19, motors to Phoenix, stopping on the way at Mesa, where his son Archie is at school. March 20, leaves Phoenix 7:30 P. M. March 21, arrive Los Angeles, Cal., 7:30 A. M.; speaks at the invitation of Governor Hiram Johnson, and at Pasadena, nearby, before the Throop Polytechnic Institute; leaves 8 P. M. March 22, arrive San Francisco 9:30 A. M., remains about ten days and will deliver the Earl lectures, six in number, before the University of California at Berkeley.

Leaving San Francisco Col. Roosevelt probably will visit friends in Nevada for an indeterminate period after which he will visit Portland, Ore., Seattle, and Spokane. No speeches there are yet announced nor is tne length of his stay in these cities known. At the conclusion of his visit he probably will go to some place in northern Idaho, not named, thence to Sand Point, Mont., and thence straight home.

POLITICS IN TEXAS.

San Antonio to Vote on Commission—Statewide Prohibition.

San Antonio, Texas, Jan. 28.—The voting popualtion of this city in particular and of Southwest Texas in general, is taking keener interest in the coming election than ever before in the history of the State. February 4th the city of San Antonio will vote on a proposition to change the Aldermanic form of government to that of commission. As in everything else of a public nature, there are two sides to this question, one championing commission form, the other standing for the old aldermanic order of things. The campaign for this February election is on in earnest, and there is a rush to pay poll tax—the right to vote in Texas depending upon the voter holding a receipt for poll tax paid for the current year. The registration in this particular almost doubles any previous year.

Another election scheduled for this State is upon an amendment to the constitution that will give Statewide prohibition. This election is the incentive for poll tax payment all over the State. The so-called "dry" element is urging every one to be prepared to vote. The "wets" are equally earnest in their efforts to see that every man has a right to cast his ballot. Just what the result of this election will be cannot be conjectured with certainty until after the people have voted. As is usual in such cases both sides claim a majority. It is conceded that the eastern half of the State has the stronger working "dry" force, while it is believed that the west is overwhelmingly wet. The dry element is urging every one to be prepared to vote. The "wets" are equally earnest in their efforts to see that every man has a right to cast his ballot.

Statewide interest in the two approaching elections grows more intense daily, and all classes ment will show the greatest vote in are active. Yesterday the ministers of this city held a meeting and provided for the distribution of cards in the various churches Sunday calling attention to the importance of paying poll tax. This, of course, is accepted as an effort of the "drys." Upon the other hand, the "wets" are quite active and it is believed that the coming election on the constitutional amendment will show the greate. vote in the history of Texas. Those in touch with conditions declare that this effort on the part of the men to vote is only in line with the general development spirit that is in here in such a pronounced way.

LONDON INVESTIGATOR.

W. S. Bryan Studies Corn Production in South Carolina.

Union, S. C., Jan. 24.—Mr. W. S. Bryan, representing The London Times, was in Union this week investigating corn crop conditions in this section. Mr. Bryan has been in the West and had gone back to Washington when his company cabled him to come to South Carolina on account of the large amount of advertising which this State had gotten because of the big corn yield. While here Mr. Bryan called to see the editor of Progress, who told him of the yields of two boys of the Progress Boys' United Corn club, namely, Ernest R. Gilmore, of Santuc, who made 113 bushels to an acre at the cost of 22 1-2 cents per bushel, and of Clifford Ivey, who made 93 bushels to an acre at the cost of 16 1-2 cents per bushel. Mr. Bryan said that these were about the lowest costs he had found anywhere in his investigations.

His purpose is to submit facts to The London Times, which is endeavoring to get people to use corn products in large quantities, believing them to be healthier and to promote a plan by which corn can be sent to any distance without being damaged.

WEEK'S NEWS AT LUMBERTON

Political Notes and Comments—Big Increase in Population—Commercial Club Meeting—Train Incident—Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Lumberton, N. C., Jan. 28.—Robeson county has been well represented in Raleigh during the week, many of its citizens being there to work for or against the new county propositions. There is one thing very certain—all of them will not get what they desire. The Recorder's court has been allowed to take a rest for a few days, but will be apt to come again.

Another matter that is causing some interest here is the appointment of the county auditor, if the office is not abolished, as some think it will be. Mr. Abner Nash, the present incumbent, stands for re-appointment, while Messrs. Lester B. Townsend and K. M. Barnes are also aspirants for the position. The name of Mr. A. T. Parmele has also been mentioned in that connection. All of these gentlemen are thoroughly competent and would discharge the duties of the office with credit to themselves and satisfaction to their friends.

Many friends here regret much to learn of the death of Rev. O. P. Meeks, which occurred at his home in Dilworth, in Charlotte, on Wednesday last. Mr. Meeks was formerly pastor of the First Baptist Church in Lumberton, but moved away several years ago, his last charge in this county being in the Rowland section. During his residence in Lumberton Mr. Meeks made many friends who will deeply sympathize with the bereaved family in their distress.

An expert fruit tree man has been here several days this week pruning trees for Mr. G. G. French. Mr. French has 1,100 peach and 400 apple trees on his farm about three miles from town which he had set out taree years ago, and with favorable weather conditions he expects great results the coming season. The man who has been pruning the trees says the peach trees should average $3 worth of fruit each this year. He says the trees are now fully as large as the Southern Pines trees are at four years old. There is no doubt but that this section will produce almost anything in the fruit line if given proper cultivation.

"The King of Tramps," which played here Tuesday night, delighted one of the largest audiences of the season. Those of our people who saw this show here four or five years ago, declare it is much better this time than when it was first seen here, and it was pronounced "just splendid" then. While there has been quite a number of highly pleasing attractions here during the season, there are several yet to come, among them being "The Vendetta," "The Wizard from Wiseland," "Grimes' Cellar Door," and others. The Pickert Stock Company and Scott Leslie's Merry Maids, have promised to play return dates, and withal the season promises to be the best yet.

The town employes have been engaged this week in puting up wire for the new fire alarm system. There will be 20 alarm boxes and instead of using a bell to give fire alarms, the whistle at the power house will be used for that purpose.——The Virginia and Carolina Southern Railroad will in a short time cross the Seaboard track so as to handle cars for the Lumberton Cotton Mills and the Kingsdale Lumber Company. By this the V. & C. S. will handle much of the solid car freight for Northern points which has always been handled by the Seaboard.

Rev. James Fairley, of Manchester, will conduct services at the Presbyterian church tomorrow morning and evening.——Mr. R. H. Davis has arrived from Atlanta and assumed the duties of manager of the Southern Bell Telephone exchange succeeding Mr. J. C. Branch, who resigned the first of the year. Mr. Davis has already made many friends and it is to be hoped he will be so well pleased with Lumberton that he will decide to make it his permanent home.——Mr. Wright J. Prevatt, proprietor of the Lumberton Barber Shop, and Miss Bessie Biggs, were married Wednesday night at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. J. M. Fleming, pastor of East Lumberton Baptist church. The happy couple have many friends who extend congratulations.

Among the other things with which this town is well supplied, is cheek—at least in one case. A few days ago an agent of a theatrical company, while in town, gave out three complimentary tickets, but as it happened, gave them to the wrong person, who sold them for half price and then managed under some pretext to beat his way into the show in time to see part of the performance, but not all. The management is on to him.——The happiest man in railroad circles in this section is Mr. Wm. Dougherty, the faithful engineer on the passenger train between Lumberton and Marion. The Raleigh & Charleston has discarded the old wood burners, putting coal burners in their places. "Capt. Bill" says he was raised on a coal burner and is glad to get back on one. He says it's no trouble to make up time now.——Mrs. H. T. Pope and children are spending some time in Washington City with relatives.

Mr. Jas. McRackan, of Vineland, visited his daughter, Mrs. Wade Wishart, two days this week.——Mrs. Marcus Floyd and little son, Yates, who had been spending some time with relatives at Fairmont, returned home this week.——Prof. R. E. Sentelle, superintendent of the Graded School, returned today from Raleigh where he went the first of the week.

From relatives we learn that Miss Elizabeth Lamb, of Fayetteville, who went to Brazil as a missionary nearly five years ago, has been called home on account of the declining health of her father, Mr. J. M. Lamb. It will be the middle or latter part of February before she can reach home. The condition of Mr. Lamb is the cause for much genuine regret all through this section.

The official count gives Lumberton a population of 2,330. The census of 1900 gave it 849, while in 1890 it was only 584. This does not include any of the mill villages of which there were three when the census was taken, and another is now rapidly filling up. Three of the mills are within a mile of the court house, while the fourth is only two miles out. Watch Lumberton grow.——Some of the horse racers are already getting ready for Spring. Almost daily practice is held on Elm street from the opera house to the extreme northern end of the street. Parents will do well to keep their little ones off the street as it will never do to interfere with the race track by having obstacles in the way.——The first term of Robeson Superior Court for the year will convene Monday week, February 6th, Judge Cook presiding.——Mr. Ben King, a Wilmington barber, who has made Lumberton his home for some time, has given up his position here to accept a similar one at Raleigh.

One of the most pleasant and profitable occasions in Lumberton in some time was the smoker given by the Industrial and Commercial Club Thursday evening. The meeting was well attended and the address of the evening which was delivered by Mr. W. T. Corwith, the secretary of the Greater Charlotte Club, was greatly enjoyed. The theme of the speaker was "Municipal Advertising," many practical suggestions being made along this line. Mr. Corwith touched upon the matter of erecting a hotel that would be a credit to the town, drawing from his fund of information in regard to the building of the Selwyn in Charlotte. At the close of Mr. Corwith's address several citizens made impromptu speeches, among the number being Mayor J. A. Rowland, Messrs. M. G. McKenzie, Frank Gough, A. W. McLean, S. A. Edmund, A. E. White, of Lumberton, and Mr. McLaughlin, of the Wilmington bar. Mr. McLean stated that a movement was on foot for the erection of a first class hotel for Lumberton, to cost something like $50,000. Mr. R. D. Caldwell, president of the club, presided over the meeting with his usual characteristic manner, making everyone feel that it was good to be there.

Senator Cobb was seen on the train last night by the Star correspondent on his way home from a business trip. Mr. Cobb said, "Say to the people down in your section that there will be no division of the county at this session of the Legislature." Representative McPhaul, who was also on the train, was asked about the new county propositions, and he said sentiment was against making new counties and that he did not think any would be made.

Dr. W. A. McPhaul and Mr. A. T. Parmele came home from Raleigh yesterday evening, coming over the Raleigh & Southport to Fayetteville. Arriving there Dr. McPhaul hurried into the ticket office and called for two tickets to Hope Mills, where they would change to the V. & C. S., but the agent stated that he did not have time, and Dr. McPhaul, expecting to be charged extra for boarding the train without a ticket, called witnesses to hear what was said. When he and Mr. Parmele were called on for their tickets he explained the matter to the conductor, who said he could not help it, that they would have to pay double fare. Dr. McPhaul refused, telling the conductor to put him off if he liked. The train was stopped and when the conductor took hold of the doctor he arose and walked out on the platform. Mr. Parmele also went out, and in some way the conductor got them mixed and had Mr. Parmele off on the ground before he discovered his mistake. Dr. McPhaul again told him why he had no ticket. The conductor then told him that he misunderstood him, told Mr. Parmele to get back on the train, and then took the fares at ticket prices. All that trouble over 30 cents.——Turner McLeod, a young colored man, who was raised here, and who it is said only recently completed a 12 months' term on the chain gang for stealing in New Hanover, is reported to be in trouble again at Sanford where he is charged with a similar offense.——A number of friends were greatly shocked this morning upon reading in the Star an account of the death of Mr. J. Hal. Boatwright.

A case of some interest was tried in Justice Rowland's court Thursday afternoon in which an insurance agent by the name of Allen was prosecutor, and one or more Croatans were the defendants. It seems that the agent sold some insurance several months ago, taking notes for the amounts due. A few days ago he returned and asked them to sign new notes, but which proved to be checks on a local bank. The checks were turned down and the defendants were indicted. The prosecutor was required to pay the costs which amounted to $8 or $10. The amount was soon paid and the agent took his departure.——Miss Della Wishart, stenographer for Messrs. Caldwell & Carlyle, will for the present divide her time between that firm and Mr. J. F. Head's office at the V. & C. S. Miss Wishart will work at one place in the forenoon and the other in the afternoon.——Representative McPhaul is spending Saturday and Sunday with his family.

NATIONAL TUBERCULOSIS DAY.

Churches to Fight Consumption—Hope to Enlist 33,000,000 Communicants.

New York, Jan. 28.—April 30th has been set aside this year as "Tuberculosis Day," and will be observed in 200,000 churches in the country in a manner similar to that of "Tuberculosis Sunday," in 1910, when over 40,000 sermons were preached on the prevention of consumption. In this first official announcement of the occasion made by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis today, the leaders of the movement state that they hope to enlist all of the 33,000,000 church members in the country.

In one respect Tuberculosis Day will differ from Tuberculosis Sunday of 1910. Instead of requesting the churches to give to the tuberculosis cause a special Sunday service, the National Association is going to ask this year that meetings, at which the subject of tuberculosis and its prevention can be discussed, be held on Sunday, April 30th, or on any other day near that date, either in the week preceding or the week following. "What we want," says Dr. Livingston Farrand, executive secretary of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, in a report on this movement, "is to have this whole subject of tuberculosis discussed in all of the 200,000 churches of the United States at as nearly the same time as possible. This does not mean that a stated service must be given over to this work, though that might be desirable, but that any minister, or other authority whom he may invite, can present the problem to his congregation before or after his regular service, or any day within the week preceding or following April 30th."

The National Association is planning to gather statistics from thousands of ministers, showing how serious a problem tuberculosis is to every church. These ngures will show other things the number of deaths last year from tuberculosis in the church congregation, and the ways in which the pastors are called on to minister to sufferers from this disease. It is planned also to issue millions of circulars and pamphlets on the prevention of tuberculosis, both from the national office and from the headquarters of the 450 anti-tuberculosis associations who will co operate in the movement.

Old Soldier Tortured

"For years I suffered unspeakable torture from indigestion, constipation and liver trouble," wrote A. K. Smith, a war veteran at Erie, Pa., "but Dr. King's New Life Pills fixed me all right. They're simply great." Try them for any stomach, liver or kidney trouble. Only 25 cents at R. B. Bellamy's.

Remedy Saved Her Child—Try it Free

PHILIP LLOYD, GRANDSON OF MRS. JONES

The following are some extracts from letters Dr. Caldwell has received:

"I wish to thank you for the sample bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. My little grandson, Philip Lloyd, had suffered from stomach trouble; when I sent for the bottle of Syrup Pepsin he was suffering all the time and had an acute attack of gastritis. I gave him the medicine, which he said was 'nice,' (he is six years old) and by the time the bottle was empty, he was cured. I was so pleased that I want to tell you what a valuable remedy you have made."—A Dr.'s Widow, Mrs. Elizabeth R. Jones, 4125 Perry St., Chicago, Ill.

"I liked the sample of Syrup Pepsin so much that I sent at once to my druggist for two 50c bottles, so I have it in the house regularly. My children like to take it, which pleased me very much, as sometimes we have trouble in getting them to take other laxatives."—Chas. H. Reichert, 3101 Jamaica Ave., Richmond Hill, L. I.

"We have received your sample bottle which you sent upon request. I have never had anything in a medicine form that has accomplished anything like yours has. It is simply great. I have already used two bottles of the 50c size after the arrival and using of your sample."—Mrs. Katherine Haberstroh, McKees Rocks, Pa.

There are literally thousands of women in this country who gratefully acknowledge that they owe the present good health of their children to the timely use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. The crying baby usually is constipated or suffers from intestinal trouble due to some error in diet. It needs no heroic measures—just a gentle laxative like Syrup Pepsin. A small dose of it will right the baby. It is a great laxative and digestant, pleasant-tasting and non-griping. No baby or child refuses it. Many mothers never give their children anything else, and they have robust children and no doctor's bills. It is a great money saver as well as a great life saver. If space permitted, thousands of women's addresses could be given who write they will never be without Syrup Pepsin in the house. It is for all the family—for anyone who realizes that salts and strong cathartics are only temporary expedients. You can buy a bottle of your favorite druggist at fifty cents and one dollar, or if you wish to make a trial of it first, you can obtain a free sample bottle from Dr. Caldwell by sending him your name and address.

Dr. Caldwell does not feel that the purchase of his remedy ends his obligation. He has specialized in stomach, liver and bowel diseases for over forty years and will be pleased to give the reader any advice on the subject free of charge. All are welcome to write him. Whether for the medical advice or the free sample, address him Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 541 Caldwell Building, Monticello, Ill.

MRS. J. E. KENNEDY'S BABY

The following are some extracts from letters Dr. Caldwell has received:

"I attribute much of my own present good health, and surely that of my baby, to the use of Syrup Pepsin. I always have it in the house, as it is so often needed, and I could not exaggerate its value to me."—Mrs. J. E. Kennedy, Good Will, Okla.

"I received your sample bottle of Syrup Pepsin and also bought a 50c bottle. It is the finest remedy I ever bought for constipation for children. I am very much pleased with it."—Mrs. Ella N. Williams, Wathena, Kas.

"I received your sample bottle, used it, and got a 50c bottle and find it is the best thing I could get. My baby was troubled with constipation and I now have no trouble."—Mrs. Toomey, Emingsville, Pa.

"About two years ago I sent to you for a sample bottle of your Syrup Pepsin. After taking it I concluded to give the remedy a fair trial, for I had been suffering for some time with indigestion. My stomach would ache so badly at times that I could not be still. I commenced taking your Syrup Pepsin and found it to be a good remedy. I can eat anything I want now. I have found it to be a good remedy for children. Now I keep a bottle on my mantle all the time."—Mrs. Ida A. Fortune, Grand Junction, Tenn.

CONDITIONS NORTH AND SOUTH

Charlotte Chronicle Has Interesting Editorial Drawing Contrast Between Two Sections—Cotton Mills and Laudries.

(Charlotte Chronicle.)

Our friends of the Northern magazines havs a fashion of sending out to publishers advance notices of the leading features of their current issues. In the February number of McClure's, Edith Wyatt and Sue Ainslee Clark have an article on the tough times the women employed in the New York lanudries have. It is pretty much an offset to the stock stuff the magazines have been running about Southern cotton mills, and reading it, we came to the conclusion that the advance slips would save us from mutilating the magazine itself, with the scissors. But behold! The editor of the advance slips had many other things of overshadowing importance and he condensed the whole laundry story in a few lines of small type under the heading: "Working From Seven in the Morning Until Midnight Without Overtime Pay." One has to dig into it to learn that it does not refer to Southern cotton mills, but to New York laundries and it skips the matter of the fabulous wages paid, altogether. It is no child labor there, but full grown women get from $3 to $8 a week as a general run, the more skilful operators making higher wages during certain seasons of the year. The magazine article, itself, is full, fair and candid. It tels of laundries where the best conditions prevail and wehere worst conditions prevail, and there is not a cotton mill woman in the South who on reading it, will not thank God that she earns her living in a Southern cotton mill instead of in the best New York laundry.

But we will throw our printed slip away and go deeper into the matter, for we want the poorest cotton mill community in the South to compare its condition with that of the wage earners in the North—for the laundry is a fairly good basis for comparison. This article in McClure's is based on the report of Miss Carola Walrishofer, who secured employment in a number of laundries and who writes from personal experience. It is a pretty hard life the workers in those laundries lead. Here is a case relating to wages. "One of the ill-paid girls who had four dollars and a half a week," says Miss Wolrishofer, "gave $3.50 a week board to an aunt. She had only $1 a week left for every other expense. This girl was keeping company with a 'longshoreman who had as much as $25 in good weeks. She had been engaged to him, but had broken her engagement because he drank—'he got so terribly drunk.' But when I saw her she was in such terrible despair with her low wages, her long hours of standing, that she was considering whether she should not swallow her well-founded terror of the misery his dissipation might bring upon them and marry him after all."

The air and light conditions are necessarily bad, but how about food and drink? At one laundry, the story goes, "the women at first kept bottles of soda water. Some old women had beer. But on a series of hot days, with hours from half past seven to twelve, and from one to any time up to ten at night, ten cents worth of beer or soda water did not go far to alleviate thirst and soon drank a big hole in a wage of $5 a week." This was on account of contaminated water and for weeks the women, not able to pay for their beer or soda water, had to drink this bad water. When the women work over time at night they cannot go home for supper, but buy it at neighboring stores. Their average supper costs seven cents. Four girls have been known to "dine" on a one cent piece of cake. The favorite supper is bread and sausage, cheese or meat.

How is it about living quarters? The general public has an idea of what life in a New York tenement is. Some of the hotels and hospitals conduct their own laundries, which are generally located in the basement. They have dormitories up under the roof for the help. In one room in the dormitory of an expensive hotel, there were twenty-seven beds in tiers, aired only by three windows on an inner court. The room looked fresh and pleasant because of the white paint and blue bed spreads; but it was badly ventilated, both by condition and because the girls would keep the windows closed for warmth." The scenes in these dormitories and laundries may be imagined from the comment of Miss Wolrishofer: "In looking back on this past week, it seems impossible it could have been true. Watching these women has been like seeing animals tortured."

Then there is a feature of wage earning in the North unknown to the South. It is discrimination. The writter of the story says: "Mangle work, as a rule, is done by Italians. In two laundries I found, working side by side with American and Irish girls, Italians, who were paid less, solely because they were Italians. The employer said he never paid the Italians more than $4 a week."

There is much more to the same effect, but the Chronicle does not like to deal in human misery. It has given so much in substantiation of its claim, often repeated that there is enough of the labor problem, so called, at the doors of the North to keep the philanthropists up there busy at home. The South is fast solving its own problem in a satisfactory way, and it is time for the North to begin the work of cleaning up its own back yard.

Solves a Deep Mystery.

"I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart," wrote C. B. Rader, of Lewisburg, W. Va., "for the wonderful double benefit I got from Electric Bitters, in curing me of both a severe case of stomach trouble and of rheumatism, from which I had been an almost helpless sufferer for ten years. It suited my case as though made just for me." For dyspepsia, indigestion, jaundice and to rid the system of kidney poisons that cause rheumatism, Electric Bitters has no equal. Try them. Every bottle is guaranteed to satisfy. Only 50 cents at R. B. Bellamy's.

THE PRESS ASSOCIATION.

Mid-Winter Session at Winston Salem a Profitable One.

(Editor Wade Harris, in Charlotte Chronicle.)

The Winter session of the North Carolina Press Association, held in Winston-Salem this week, was an innovation. It was the first venture of the kind. At the annual meeting at Wrightsville, last summer, this mid-winter session was urged by a number of the members, and we are glad to state that at least one of those responsible for the meeting was present in the person of Dr. Archibald Johnson, of Charity and Children. Five or six of them were tied up by the Legislature, others were plowing their farms, one we know of had the mumps—and for this and various causes, the meeting was not so large as the usual summer convention. However, about forty of the faithful were there, and to their credit, be it said, most of them brought their wives. It is a fact that on this occasion "the better half" proved the redeeming feature. The business transacted was not of a very weighty nature but the discussions were profitable and showed that the mid-winter session may be made a valuable feature of association work. The entertainment by the people of Winston-Salem was fine—it was even more than might have been expected. The pockets of the visitors were filled with street car tickets, and tickets to all the clubs and places of amusement, and the banquet tendered them at the Zinzendorf Hotel was an elegant and elaborate affair in every detail.

Sharing the honors with the banquet was the concert in the Alumnae Memorial Hall of the Salem Female Academy. The programme was short, but each selection was a gem. There was "The Rosary," for one number, Hindu Slumber Song, Polish National Dance, and other fine features. Dean Shirley's organ solo, "variations on an American air," The organ in this hall is the finest in North Carolina and the mahogany keyboard desk is placed on the rostrum in such a position that the manipulation of the keys, the clutch, the brakes, the carburetors and the various other items of mechanism are in full view of the audience. And when we saw Dean Shirley throw his hands down to his side and operate the basement apparatus with his feet, bringing out the variations in thunder tones, we were willing to subscribe to the fact that if Winston-Salem had not given the editors anything else, this concert and this particular feature of it would have been enough in itself. We are not an authority on music, but we can take the judgment of Colonel Bob Phillips, who is a bass singer of note and who has essayed the Holy City in Winston-Salem, that the concert was a veritable gem in the musical art. As for Judge Clark, it about decided him to send one of his daughters to Salem Academy, forthwith. The management of the academy escorted the visitors throughout the buildings and grounds, and through this resulted some revelations of interest. We are not going to say anything about Winston-Salem's population, or its tobacco sales, nor are we going to go through the mass of facts and figures which Kuykendal stuffed into our overcoat pockets. We will sum it all in the statement that Winston-Salem is a bang-up town, and every editor and every editor's wife who was there, will back us in that.

A RELIABLE COUGH MEDICINE.

Is a valuable family friend. Foley's Honey and Tar fulfills this condition exactly. Mrs. Charles Kline, N. 8th St., Easton, Pa., states: "Several members of my family have been cured of bad coughs and colds by the use of Foley's Honey and Tar, and I am never without a bottle in the house." Refuse substitutes. Robt. R. Bellamy.

OUR FOREIGN TRADE.

Exports of High-Grade American Manufactures Are Large.

Washington, D. C., January 28—No greater tribute to the faithfulness and efficiency of the American workman and American manufacturer could be found in a condensed space than the records of the Bureau of Statistics, Department of Commerce and Labor, which show the exportations of what may properly be termed "high-grade" manufactures from the United States. People in all parts of the world are purchasing every month and practically every day in the year the most complex products of the American workshop, such as typewriters, sewing machines, cash registers, scientific instruments, telegraph and telephone apparatus, musical instrumetns, automobiles, and other articles requiring superior skill in their manufacture. Articles of this class are transported to the most distant and out-of-the-way places of the world—the islands of the ocean and the distant interiors of the great continents—with the calm confidence that they will not only render the service for which they were manufactured, but continue that service for such length of time as to justify their transfer from the place of manufacture to distant communities not provided with experts and facilities for repairs. That this confidence in the products of the American workshop is justified by experience is indicated by the continued and, in most cases, growing export trade in these articles.

Take sewing machines as an example. A hundred million dollars' worth of these machines have been exported from the United States in the last quarter of a century, going to every part of the world.

Typewriters are another example of complicated machines exported to distant parts of the world, with confidence that they can there be successfully operated without return to the manufacturer for frequent repair. The value of typewriters exported from the United States since the fiscal year 1897, when they were first shown in the statement of experts of the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Commerce and Labor, is over 60 million dollars, and in 1909 they went to no less than 90 different countries, colonies and islands. Cash registers are a still more recently developed item in our list of exportations, yet they were sent in 1909 to more than different countries.

The automobile, which seems to require careful and expert attention even in the country in which manufactured, goes in large numbers to all the grand divisions, many principal colonies and islands of the world. The valuation of this class of experts having rapidly increased until the figures of the calendar year 19170 alone show a total of 11 million dollars.

Musical instruments of American manufacture, including organs, pianos and pianolas, are evidently popular, the countries to which pianos and organs are sent being approximately 75, and even of pianolas the experts are numbered by thousands, and the countries to which they go approximately half a hundred.

Thus one might go on indefinitely enumerating the products of the American workshop of high quality and complex caracter, such as electrical applicances, phonographs, metal-working machinery, shoe machinery, wodworking machinery, dental goods, photographic goods, mowers and reapers, and many other articles of this class, forming a very considerable percentage of the 800 million dollars worth of manufactures exported from the United States last year.

FREE TO YOU—MY SISTER

Free to You and Every Sister Suffering from Woman's Ailments.

I am a woman.
I know woman's sufferings.
I have found the cure.

I will mail, free of any charge, my home treatment with full instructions to any sufferer from woman's ailments. I want to tell all women about this cure—you, my reader, for yourself, your daughter, your mother, or your sister. I want to tell you how to cure yourselves at home without the help of a doctor. Men cannot understand women's sufferings. What we women know from experience, we know better than any doctor. I know that my home treatment is safe and sure cure for Leucorrhoea or Whitish discharges, Ulceration, Displacement or Falling of the Womb, Profuse, Scanty or Painful Periods, Uterine or Ovarian Tumors, or Growths; also pains in head, back and bowels, bearing down feelings, nervousness, creeping feeling up the spine, melancholy, desire to cry, hot flashes, weariness, kidney, and bladder troubles where caused by weaknesses peculiar to our sex.

I want to send you a complete ten day's treatment entirely free to prove to you that you can cure yourself at home, easily, quickly and surely. Remember, that it will cost you nothing to give the treatment a complete trial; and if you wish to continue, it will cost you only about 12 cents a week or less than two cents a day. It will not interfere with your work or occupation. Just send me your name and address, tell me how you suffer if you wish, and I will send you the treatment for your case, entirely free, in plain wrapper, by return mail. I will also send you free of cost, my book—"WOMAN'S OWN MEDICAL ADVISER" with explanatory illustrations showing why women suffer, and how they can easily cure themselves at home. Every woman should have it, and learn to think for herself. Then when the doctor says—"You must have an operation," you can decide for yourself. Thousands of women have cured themselves with my home remedy. It cures all old or young. To Mothers of Daughters, I will explain a simple home treatment which speedily and effectually cures Leucorrhoea, Green Sickness and Painful or Irregular Menstruation in young Ladies, Plumpness and health always results from its use.

Wherever you live, I can refer you to ladies of your own locality who know and will gladly tell any sufferer that this Home Treatment really cures all women's diseases, and makes women well, strong, plump and robust. Just send me your address, and the free ten day's treatment is yours, also the book. Write to-day, as you may not see this offer again. Address

Mr. Dixon's Greatest Book

A Powerful Romance of American Life To-Day

The Root of Evil

By Thomas Dixon

In showing how James Stuart finds out what are really the best gifts of life, Mr. Dixon has told a story of surpassing realism and fundamental truth. For the woman of his story it is a struggle between love and the desire of luxury. It is a book for this time and this generation with its ideals of power and money-getting and it is unquestionably the best that Mr. Dixon has yet done.
